

KNOX CALLS FOR QUICK ACTION TO ARM SHIPS, 'EVEN AT RISK OF WAR'

Tells House Committee Danger Involved Is 'Far Less' Than That of Allowing England to Lose Conflict.

NOT VOTING TO ATTACK GERMANY

Hull and Stimson Also Urge Lifting Bar on Merchantmen Entering War Zones, to Speed Delivery of Aid.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Secretary of the Navy Knox, advocating swift repeal of the Neutral Act's prohibition against arming American merchantmen, told Congress today the resultant risk would be "far less than the risk of allowing England to lose the war."

He was the third Cabinet member to urge repeal of this provision before the House Foreign Affairs Committee during the day. He followed Secretary of State Hull and Secretary of War Stimson, who also advocated permitting merchant ships to enter combat zones in the interest of expediting delivery of lend-lease goods.

Knox declared that Americans now realize that "we must give every aid to those who are fighting Hitler, even if it involves the risk of war itself."

"Not Voting to Attack Nazis." "If you vote to repeal this act," the navy secretary told the committee, "you are not voting to attack Germany. You are not voting to send an army, or air force, or the navy to attack Germany."

"You are voting for absolutely nothing but to see that there is speedy delivery of the supplies that the nation you have said ought to have the supplies with which to carry on the war, and you are voting to send our ships out upon the ocean which we have always regarded shall be free to our ships, as a measure of our security."

Stimson argued U. S. ships should be allowed to enter combat zones in the interest of expediting delivery of lend-lease goods. He continued: "I believe that the repeal of this humiliating provision of law would not only conduce to regaining our self-respect upon the ocean," Stimson said, "but that it would materially promote the safety of the vessels which we are now sending out and the safe landing of the munitions which Congress has decided to make available to the nations whose defense is vital to our own defense."

"I recommend its immediate repeal," Stimson added that the provision against arming merchant ships was not the only "dangerous restriction" in the neutrality law.

War Zone Bar Also Futile. "Section Two, which in effect closes to us the ports of those belligerent countries now recognized by Congress to be fighting our common enemy," he said, "has also been shown by current history to be entirely futile for accomplishing the purpose for which it was enacted."

"American vessels are being attacked in many places in the ocean, far away from the danger zone imposed under section two. They are being attacked and sunk on the high seas, not only distant from any belligerent port but even within the limits of our own hemisphere and within the protective lines which we have drawn about that hemisphere."

Stimson testified that in his opinion the defense of the United States would be far more secure if the combat zones were moved to American ships "and we promptly implemented the congressional policy of the Lend-Lease Act by undertaking to make delivery in our own vessels of these munitions directly to the ports of the countries for which they are intended."

Choice of Dangers. "The danger which we should incur in my opinion," he said, "would be far less than the peril we probably shall incur if we fail and fail to carry out the purpose of the lend-lease law and make sure beyond peradventure the safety of those nations which are now fighting a desperate battle against our common enemy."

ROOSEVELT ASSERTS AID FOR RUSSIA IS LEAVING U. S. PORTS 'CONSTANTLY'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT announced today that munitions for Russia were "leaving United States ports constantly" and that everything possible was being done to send material to the Soviet Union to help "the brave defense which continues to be made."

"The President announced today that within the past few days large amounts of supplies have been sent to Russia. He further stated that all of the munitions, including tanks, airplanes and trucks, promised at the Moscow conference for delivery in October, will be sent to Russia before the end of the month."

"These supplies are leaving United States ports constantly. The staff in the army and the Maritime Commission have worked over the past week and rushing supplies to the sea-board, and everything possible is being done to send the material to Russia to help the brave defense which continues to be made."

Earlier the President had urged congressional leaders to speed enactment of the $5,985,000,000 lend-lease appropriation and received assurances the bill would reach the Senate floor early next week.

45 MACHINISTS WALK OUT IN TNT PLANT UNION ROW

Agent Says Other Defense Projects Will Be Tied Up if Dispute Is Not Settled.

Forty-five AFL machinists employed at the $38,000,000 Weldon Spring TNT plant went on strike today in a jurisdictional dispute with Joseph (Buck) Newell's AFL Hoisting Engineers' Union over the right to bargain for 22 mechanics employed in the plant's garage.

Lloyd Weber, business agent for the Machinists' District Council No. 9, said he had been trying since last spring to get some Government agency to make a ruling on the jurisdictional question.

If the argument is not settled shortly, Weber said, machinists will go on strike at other defense projects in the St. Louis area. If necessary, he said, a general strike of the 7000 local machinists, of whom about 80 per cent are working on defense contracts, will be called.

Machinists on strike at the TNT plant include four of the garage mechanics, 11 employed in the plant's machine shop and 30 who were installing production machinery.

Plant Not Picketed. The strikers did not picket the plant and no violence was reported.

L. Z. Dolan, assistant works manager for the Frasier-Breese Engineering Co., Inc., construction contractors, said the strike would not affect the plant's output.

"Section Two, which in effect closes to us the ports of those belligerent countries now recognized by Congress to be fighting our common enemy," he said, "has also been shown by current history to be entirely futile for accomplishing the purpose for which it was enacted."

Permitted to Put Cash in Segregated Fund, Freezing One Which Had $67,000 in June—Subpenas Issued.

Acting Circuit Attorney Henry G. Morris disclosed today that, following his announcement that he would issue a subpoena to freeze a $67,000 checking account of Local 42 of the AFL Hodcarriers, Building and Common Laborers' Union at the Telegraphers' National Bank, officers and members of the union tried unsuccessfully to deposit money in the account.

When Morris announced this morning that he would issue a subpoena for the account, he said that the account had the $67,000 balance last June 1 and that a thorough examination of the union's records showed no canceled checks on the account. Morris was in his office all morning. When he emerged at 1:30 p. m., he told reporters he had been informed by Herbert W. Kolkmeier, assistant vice-president of the Telegraphers' Bank, that three of the union officers and their lawyers had appeared at the bank with a little black bag and an envelope, both filled with money which they wanted to deposit.

3 Who Appear at Bank. Kolkmeier named the men as Theodore Nischwitz, an international representative of the local; Edward Hill, president of the local; Paul Hulanek, one of the business agents, and William Bartley, attorney for the union.

After considerable discussion with bank and union officers, Morris permitted the union men to deposit the money, the amount of which was not disclosed, in a segregated account, under the stipulation that the union's first account be frozen as of last Saturday.

Later in the afternoon Circuit Judge Joseph J. Ward signed the subpoena not only freezing the union account at the bank, but also the personal accounts of Hill, Hulanek, Earl Jenkins, another business agent; Orville Golden, secretary, and of Golden's wife, Mrs. Mary Golden.

Second Subpena. Another subpoena signed by Judge Ward directed the officers of the Lindell Trust Co., 2745 North Grand boulevard, to freeze the accounts of the union men at that bank and to hold any safe deposit boxes which the union or any of the four officers had at that bank. Morris said he had learned that the union had a safe deposit box at the Lindell Trust Co. containing $12,000.

Golden, Hill, Hulanek and Jenkins are charged in warrants with embezzlement of $6000 of the union's funds. These were issued last week, following the disappearance of $47,000 from the union's treasury.

It was Golden who told the story of the embezzlement, and who said also that two fake Federal agents took $41,000 of the union's money. The grand jury met at 2 p. m. today to begin its inquiry into the alleged embezzlement and also into the story of the local's secretary that two fake Federal agents took $41,000 of the union's money.

Records of the union were seized by the Circuit Attorney's office last Saturday. An audit will be made by the Circuit Attorney, probably in conjunction with an international representative of the union.

Morris said he also had under consideration an inquiry into the personal bank accounts of the union officers charged with embezzlement.

Request on Police Aid. A request for additional detectives was made today.

Men Work at 67 Below in Tests For Planes to Fly 10 Miles High

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Oct. 13 (AP).—As the European war in the air pushes toward the altitude of 40,000 feet, an American aircraft manufacturer has begun a series of research projects in sub-zero cold to determine how airplane equipment will perform 10 miles above the earth.

A "cold room" was opened yesterday by the Douglas Aircraft Co. to test such equipment as the rubber hose connections in an airplane. The men engaged in the research wear sheepskins and helmets not unlike those of divers, to protect themselves from temperatures as low as 67 degrees below zero.

The helmets are made of spun aluminum and welded to padded shoulder pieces of the same material. Rubber, the company reported, first gets brittle and then snaps

ROADS OFFER PAY PLAN ADJUSTED TO LIVING COSTS AND RAIL REVENUE

Increases Would Apply Only to First $30 a Week or $65 a Half-Month of Wages, Go Into Effect Nov. 1.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (AP).—Railroad management submitted a wage increase counteroffer today to President Roosevelt's fact-finding board investigating a dispute between the major carriers and 1,200,000 organized employees.

Described as a plan for emergency compensation resembling the Canadian war emergency bonus plan, the proposal was based on a formula relating changes in the index of living costs to the trend in railroad gross revenues.

The initial effect would be an estimated 6 per cent increase on earnings up to $30 a week or $65 on semi-monthly payrolls, effective Nov. 1, and amounting to approximately $95,000,000 a year.

The raise would apply to all employees, a spokesman explained, but only on their first $30 a week or $65 a half-month. An employee earning more than $30 a week would not have the increase percentage applied to the excess over $30.

The proposal was presented by F. C. Gurley, vice president of the Santa Fe railroad, chairman of the carriers' executive committee. It would become effective Nov. 1, 1941, and continue through Dec. 31, 1942, and provide for four quarterly adjustments if necessary on Feb. 1, May 1, and Aug. 1 and Nov. 1, 1942.

Present basic rates of pay would be preserved as a floor below which wages would not go, regardless of the trends of living costs and railroad revenues, Gurley said. A ceiling also would be fixed of not more than 15 per cent increase on the first $30 a week of earnings.

Gurley said the plan was devised and submitted because the carriers decided unanimously that the employees' wage increase demands "were ruinous" and the railroads "cannot grant them, or any considerable portion of them, and expect to survive as self-sustaining business institutions."

The five operating brotherhoods demanded a flat 30 per cent increase and the 14 non-operating brotherhoods asked a boost of from 20 to 34 cents an hour in their basic pay.

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Eighty-eight-year-old Sir Ian Hamilton, commander of the Central Highland regiment on the bonds of empire yesterday, after taking a salute, said: "You might get married here, you might have a Canadian baby born in England. Think what a bond that would be. Try it!"

RUSSIAN ARMIES COUNTERATTACKING WEST OF MOSCOW; ADMIT NAZI GAINS BUT SAY DRIVE HAS SLOWED DOWNLARGE R.A.F. UNITS RAID INDUSTRIES IN GERMANY TO EASE PRESSURE ON REDS

Nuremberg Heavily Bombed, Many Fires Set, British Claim—Bremen Also Attacked—300 Planes Used in Forays.

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Britain last night by striking at industrial Germany in one of the heaviest raids of the war, setting many fires which "spread over a large area" at Nuremberg, scene of the Nazi party's annual congresses.

Nuremberg, an industrial center in Bavaria, was the principal objective, a communique announced. "A number of targets in Western and Northwestern Germany also were attacked," the Air Ministry said and authoritative sources added that more than 300 planes took part in the attacks.

Bremen was bombed by strong forces, the Air Ministry reported, and docks at Boulogne, German-occupied French channel port, also were raided.

11 Planes Lost. The loss of 11 planes in the widespread operations was admitted. A British source said Nuremberg was raided heavily in good weather.

"In Western and Northwestern Germany" he added, "the weather was not so favorable but strong forces attacked a number of targets, particularly the port of Bremen."

Crews returning from Nuremberg said they "saw roofs" cave in, factory buildings collapse, flames pour from windows and skeletons of burned-out buildings standing out against the black, "the ministry reported. Fires so fierce they stung bomber wings were set, the ministry added.

The attack was followed up by daylight today with a heavy offensive against the German-held "invasion coast" across the English Channel.

Heavy Fighting Indicated. In this sweep, the R. A. F. was said authoritatively to have destroyed 19 German planes while losing 15 of its own.

A German plane, believed to have been a Messerschmitt 109, apparently followed the British planes back across the channel as they recrossed the English coast at Dungeness. This was the first hostile aircraft to cross the English coast by daylight in many weeks. Flying high, it left a great vapor trail and seemed to be losing altitude as it went back across the channel.

Last night's attack was the third directed against Germany in as many nights after a lull imposed by bad weather and was the first on Bavaria since last year.

Other British planes blasted at the French coast from Boulogne to Dunkerque, which they attacked repeatedly over the week and in. Continued on Page 5, Column 3.

BEAVERBROOK CALLS ON U. S., BRITAIN FOR 30,000 TANKS

Demands 'Vaster' Program in Citing Reds' Needs—Papers Urge America to Enter War, Aid in Checking Japan.

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Urgent and pointed demands for Britain and the United States to help Russia by military action as well as with supplies came from sections of the London press today after a call by Lord Beaverbrook for British-American production of 30,000 tanks.

Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply and head of the British delegation to the Moscow conference on aid to Russia, said in a broadcast yesterday that Britain and the United States had agreed to supply practically everything the Russians had asked for.

He stressed the urgent need for tanks, saying the Russians estimated the Germans had 20,000 tanks for their Eastern campaign with 14,000 thrown into the present giant offensive.

The tabloid Daily Sketch said that "the sooner Americans are in with the Russians and ourselves, mingling their blood and sweat and tears in a common drain, the sooner the war will be won."

Still another idea was contributed by the Sunday Chronicle in an article suggesting a joint British-American guarantee of Russia's Far Eastern frontier against Japanese attack to release nearly a half million Red army troops there.

The help-Russia-now campaign was given support by L. S. Amery, secretary of state for India, who said in a speech: "We must take every risk to help Russia. . . . It is up to us and America to find ways and means to overcome all obstacles to give while there yet is time the relief Russia so sorely needs."

Pledge to Stalin. Beaverbrook did not say how many tanks the Russians had requested, but he did say the British and American delegations in Moscow had promised "all that at present we can give."

"As for tanks and aircraft, the numbers that Stalin asked for, let it be said that the full numbers promised for the month of October have been provided," he asserted. "Guns we have promised, too, a few big guns, plenty of good guns and plenty of ammunition, raw materials, copper, lead, zinc, tin, cobalt, brass, rubber, silk, jute, wool, phosphorus, diamonds, shellac and a long list of other products."

Reliable reports from commercial sources have indicated the United States' output of medium tanks is around 200 a month, with production of light tanks about double that figure. The production goal for next spring is a military secret, but it is understood that efforts will be concentrated on manufacture of medium tanks since production of light tanks presents no difficulties.

Describes Conference Session. Describing how the "Red flag of the Soviets with the glittering star, the sickle and hammer, the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes" fluttered over the airfield when the British and American delegations arrived in Moscow, Beaverbrook went on to the final night conference with Premier Stalin when the British-American answer was given to his requests.

As the list was read, Beaverbrook said, "the British and American delegations were found in the Yakima mosquitoes."

San Francisco, Oct. 13 (AP).—Laboratory tests confirming that mosquitoes can carry the virus of American sleeping sickness or encephalitis are reported by scientists of the University of California Hooper Foundation.

They found the disease organisms in mosquitoes from Yakima, Wash., center of an area in which more than 100 persons have died from the infection. As yet there is no evidence that the mosquito transmits the disease to human beings.

There are two kinds of virus which cause the disease. One is the organism of St. Louis encephalitis, which caused an epidemic there several years ago. The other is the virus of Western equine encephalomyelitis, which has appeared in parts of the West since 1935. Both types of virus were found in the Yakima mosquitoes.

CHIEF OF DUTCH ARMY IN EAST INDIES KILLED

In Plane Crash—4 Other Officers, 5 Native Children Also Lose Lives.

BATAVIA, Dutch East Indies, Oct. 13 (AP).—Gen. Gerardus Johannes Berenschot, 54-year-old commander-in-chief of the Dutch East Indies army, was killed in a plane crash today shortly after a conference with British command-in-chief for the Far East on joint defense measures.

Four other occupants of the plane and five native children were killed when the craft landed on a native hut and burned.

Berenschot had just taken off from an airport on the outskirts of Batavia in an army Lockheed plane to return to Bandung, army headquarters, after talking with Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, who stopped in Batavia for a conference en route from Singapore to Australia.

Capt. Knapp, the pilot, Wing Commander Wilkins of the Royal Air Force and two non-commissioned Indian officers were the others killed. A stalled engine was blamed for the accident.

RED RESISTANCE INCREASING, MORE REINFORCEMENTS RUSHED INTO LINE

Fall of Bryansk Admitted—Germans Report Capturing 350,000 Prisoners in Battle There and in Vyazma Area.

MOSCOW, Oct. 13 (AP).—Russian front line dispatches reported that the German advance was slowed down today in the direction of Vyazma, the major battleground of the big Nazi offensive against Moscow, and that Soviet counterattacks had been launched against the invaders at several points.

The Germans still were moving eastward, a dispatch to the Communist party newspaper Pravda said, but their pace was reported to have been reduced in the last few days and the Red Army's resistance was declared to be growing.

Soviet reinforcements were being rushed steadily into the lines, late dispatches said. All reports indicated the Russians and the Germans were locked in the greatest battle of the war.

Two Towns Reported Retaken. A terrific struggle raged about Vyazma, 125 miles from Moscow, where counterattacking Russians were declared to have retaken the town of M. The Reds also pushed counterattacks elsewhere, one of which was said to have resulted in the recapture of a town near Bryansk. Bryansk itself, strategic rail junction 210 miles southwest of Moscow, was abandoned yesterday by the Russians.

Another Soviet counterattack was launched from the north of Orel, which the Germans took a week ago.

The Germans reported they had taken 350,000 prisoners in the battles of Vyazma and Bryansk, west and southwest of Moscow, and said a third Nazi thrust from the Valdai Hills on the northwest had smashed through Russian lines 140 miles from the capital.)

The Russian reinforcements, Pravda said, are fresh, well-equipped regular troops who already have been under fire but since have been rested. These experienced fighters were reported to be fighting confidently now and in good spirits. All wore winter uniforms with long gray greatcoats and fur hats, the dispatches from the front stated.

Nazis Also Bolster Forces. The Germans also were said to have rushed reinforcements to the front to maintain their numerical superiority.

After the original surprise assault with which the Nazis opened the offensive against Moscow by thrusting a wedge in the Russian flank, the central sector appeared to be growing more stable.

"Despite great losses," said Pravda, "our troops are fighting steadfastly."

The Red Army was reported counterattacking at both flanks of the long front. Pravda said Russian assaults in sector N at the approaches to Leningrad had killed 1500 Germans and wounded many more between Oct. 8 and Oct. 10.

Today's mid-day communique reported counterattacks on the southwestern front.

East of Poltava, in the Ukraine, the Russians withdrew to prepared positions to face German reinforcements, it was said. The battle in that sector, where the Nazis are pushing toward Kharkov, is continuing, reports said.

In the southern sector, the Black Sea naval force was said to be hitting at the invaders in the area of Melitopol and on the approach to the Crimea. Large-scale tank battles also were reported there.

Moscow Air Raid Alarm.

Moscow had an early morning air raid alarm, lasting from 2 a. m. to 3:15 a. m., which was the first since Oct. 2. It was without incident.

The Soviet air force, it was stated, continued to strike hard at the Nazis. During a week of battle about Vyazma Russian flyers have downed 96 German planes and destroyed 300 German tanks.

BANKHEAD CALLS HEAD OF TREASURY PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1 OF FARMER

Morgenthau's Statements on Inflationary Danger of Rising Crop Prices Termed Absurd—Bloc to Fight Ceilings.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Calling Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau "Public Enemy No. 1" of the farmer, Senator Bankhead (Dem., Ala.), said today that farm state Congressmen would oppose any attempt to place rigid price ceilings on agricultural products.

Bankhead, who has sponsored most of the New Deal farm laws and appropriations in recent years, asserted he saw no possibility of any inflationary prices for major farm crops.

He called absurd the recent series of Morgenthau statements which contended that rising farm prices had accelerated the danger of inflation and which urged that Government loan stocks of agricultural products be placed on the market to counteract the climbing prices.

Points to Surpluses.

"We have big surplus supplies of cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and most other major farm products," Bankhead said in an interview. "As long as this exists there can be no inflation in farm prices. To get an inflated price, you must have a scarcity, with several buyers bidding for an article. No thinking person is afraid of such a situation in cotton, wheat or other major crops."

Bankhead, Chairman Smith (Dem., S. Carolina), of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and several other Senators who have led congressional fights on farm bills in the past have accused Morgenthau of forcing down market prices of cotton and other major crops by recent public utterances.

"Anyone would think he was Secretary of Agriculture instead of the Treasury," Bankhead said. "He seems to spend all his time trying to advise on farm matters. I like Mr. Morgenthau and respect him, but he's no farm authority."

To Demand Flexibility.

When the administration's price-fixing bill reaches the Senate, Bankhead said he would demand that any price ceilings on farm products "be tied directly to the price index on wages and labor and that both of these be flexible and geared to the cost of living."

Meanwhile Senator Thomas (Dem., Okla.), said he would press for approval of his bill to revise upward the present system of determining parity prices on agricultural commodities. A parity price is one that gives an article the same relative purchasing power it had in the base period 1890-14.

Any increase in parity levels for major farm products would mean millions and possibly billions of extra dollars for farmers in the period of prosperity predicted ahead. Mandatory Government loans at 85 per cent parity levels, ordered by Congress this year as a floor under farm prices, would be lifted automatically, thus supporting market prices.

Food Distributors Are Warned Prices Will Be Stabilized.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (AP).—Douglas C. MacKeechie, director of purchases for the Office of Production Management, warned food distributors today that when prices for their products reached the point of a "fair and just return" they would have to be stabilized.

MacKeechie, speaking at the convention of the National Association of Food Chains, said that OPM and the Office of Price Administration soon would form an advisory committee to help the food distributing industry meet the problems presented by the defense program.

He conceded that when the program began food prices were at "very low level," but said that it was the duty of food distributors to do all in their power to keep prices from spiraling.

He said there were two major requests which he made of the wholesale food industry:

"Avoid speculative buying and heavy advance buying. Buy goods to sell, not to hold for a speculative profit."

"Co-operate in every way you can with the Government's own procurement program. This, of course, means bidding on Government invitations, and bidding at the fairest possible levels."

SWISS REPORT THREE KILLED IN BOMBING OF VILLAGE

House in Town Near Germany Destroyed by Explosives From Unidentified Planes.

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 13 (AP).—Swiss military authorities announced today that three persons were killed last night when bombs dropped by unidentified aircraft destroyed a house in the Swiss village of Buhwil.

The village is in Thurgau Canton, which borders Southern Germany.

The British announced that their planes bombed Nuremberg, Bavaria, in Southern Germany, last night.

Reds Counterattack West of Moscow

destroyed 205 tanks, 605 vehicles, 14 artillery batteries, 64 anti-aircraft guns and 101 fire points, Pravda asserted. Low-flying Russian "stormer" planes were reported repeatedly harassing German troop concentrations.

The report of the Red counterattacks came after Russia had acknowledged the Nazis had rolled back its forces southwest of Moscow.

Fall of Bryansk Admitted.

In announcing the fall of Bryansk, the early morning communique said the city was abandoned "after many days of stubborn fighting."

Germany, constantly throwing in fresh soldiers in the western sectors, built up numerical superiority to press the Soviets back and wedge into their defense lines "at a cost of tremendous losses in manpower and armament," the communique stated.

The Nazis lost more than 12,000 killed and wounded in various fights in the western direction yesterday, the communique said.

The German drive around Vyazma appeared aimed at occupation of the broad highway leading to Moscow.

Snow and stinging cold were plaguing the attackers, the Russians said. The Germans, shivering in their light garments after taking the city of Orel, ordered Orel residents to turn over to the military all warm clothing, a Red Star dispatch reported.

Press Stresses Danger.

As the central front offensive in an effort to close a ring around the armies of Marshal Semyon Timoshenko, the Soviet press continued to emphasize the present danger.

Pravda asserted the invaders were seeking to capture Moscow, break through to the most important industrial centers and "encircle our armies."

"The Red army is now facing the greatest of all trials with the enemy fighting a win-or-lose battle," Pravda said.

The military bulletin, Red Fleet, declared that "death in this battle is many times more welcome than life under the Fascist yoke."

The army newspaper, Red Star, told the soldiers: "Win or die. There is no other alternative."

NAZIS REPORT NEW BREAK IN RED LINES

BERLIN, Oct. 13 (AP).—Adolf Hitler's headquarters announced today that the number of Russian prisoners taken in the Bryansk and Vyazma areas west and southwest of Moscow had risen to more than 350,000, while German dispatches reported that a new Nazi spearhead had smashed through Soviet lines 140 miles northwest of the capital.

The number of Soviet prisoners "grew steadily," said a special announcement.

The advancing Nazis, said to be less than 100 miles from Moscow on the west and southwest, were aided by the air force, which incessantly attacked the retreating Red Army forces, dispatches from the front said.

Some observers expressed the opinion certain German vanguard formations were now east of a north-south line drawn through Moscow.

"Vast Massing of Soldiers."

Military commentators said that the double battle of Bryansk and Vyazma was probably the greatest encirclement action in military history and that it probably would be a long time before it was exceeded or duplicated, because "nowhere else is there at present or likely to be in the near future such a vast massing of soldiers."

Authorized military sources, commenting on the offensive north of the Sea of Azov spoke of a "military landslide," which would "lead to other great developments, both militarily and politically." The air force, it was insisted, is seeing through into those vast spaces where of foreign countries speak so much.

Launching the new offensive from the head waters of the Volga in the Valdai Hills region toward Rzhhev, 140 miles northwest of Moscow, was another of Hitler's surprise movements, authorized quarters said. It was started somewhat later than those around Bryansk and farther south, with the apparent purpose of lulling the Russians into security.

Military spokesmen said armored advance forces of the new onset were racing to the east so swiftly that the mop-up of Russian resistance was left to horse-drawn artillery and follow-up forces of infantry.

Fierce Battle at Vyazma.

At Vyazma, scene of heavy fighting 125 miles west of Moscow, the high command announced that the "destruction of forces encircled is approaching conclusion."

Its communique declared also that German bombers attacked "targets of military importance in Moscow" last night.

Nazi soldiers pursuing remnants of the Russians who escaped the battle of the Sea of Azov in Southern Russia have captured 11,000 prisoners and 18 guns, the high command said.

On the northwestern front, the Leningrad sector, the communique asserted repeated attempts of the Reds to break out of encirclement were repelled with "very heavy losses to the enemy."

Military quarters declared that trapped Russian forces at Bryansk had made desperate efforts yesterday to smash their way out, attacking in waves 15 men deep. FIVE ITALIAN SHIPS DAMAGED IN AIR RAIDS, BRITISH CLAIM

Three Vessels in Convoy Torpedoed, Others Set Afire in Mediterranean Forays.

CAIRO, Oct. 13 (AP).—At least five Italian ships were damaged by British bombers and torpedo planes in a series of raids in the Mediterranean, the British reported yesterday.

Three vessels were hit in a 20-minute torpedo assault on an Italian convoy, it was reported, and two other ships were set afire in a daylight attack on Italian shipping in the Gulf of Sirte on the North African coast.

A Royal Air Force bulletin said the harbors at Tripoli and Benghazi were bombed again during the week-end and fires were started in an attack on Bardia.

BRITISH RADIO HECKLED BY GOVERNMENT CRITIC

Voice Cries "Why Should We Go Without Milk?" to Aid "Bohshies."

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Britons, who have enjoyed reading of a mysterious voice which has been cutting in on German broadcasts for weeks, heard a heckler on their own BBC broadcast tonight.

During a broadcast for women of the armed forces a voice interrupted to shout:

"Why the hell should we go without milk because the Bohshies want milk?"

The "voice" apparently referred to the Food Ministry's milk rationing scheme, effective today, which restricts milk distribution to persons registered with approved dealers.

Another of the "voice's" interruptions was to blurt: "We want a national government, not an American government or a Jewish government or a government of the press."

"For weeks our infantrymen lay in narrow trenches and slimy earthworks with rifles and hand grenades beside them," wrote one reporter. "For weeks the Soviets charged against our positions and repeatedly were smashed back."

Reflecting the general German confidence, Walther Funk, Economics Minister and President of the Reichsbank, declared yesterday that Russia already had been annexed in an economic sense to the "New Europe."

HENDERSON SAYS MORE TIME MUST GO INTO DEFENSE

Only One Hour Out of 8 Being Used, He Asserts While Nazis Put in 5 Out of 8.

DETROIT, Oct. 13 (AP).—Leon Henderson, price administrator, declared today that the national industrial machine had pushed production close to 45 per cent above the 1929 peak, but if America's effort were going to count in the defeat of Hitler more productive energy must be diverted to defense.

Speaking before the Detroit Economic Club, Henderson said this country was giving only one hour out of every eight for defense, while Hitler was using five out of every eight for military purposes.

Production schedules charted by OPM, he said, call for an increasing diversion of production time to defense. By January, he added, we should be giving one and one-half hours out of every eight for defense and by June two out of every eight.

"But even if we do get to using 25 per cent of our productive effort by next June, that will not be enough," he said.

BRITISH ASK U. S. TO EQUIP IRAN RAILROAD TO RUSSIA

Rails and Rolling Stock Sought for Supply Line to Caspian Sea.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—British authorities, an OPM spokesman said today, have made a request under the lease-lend program for a large amount of railroad rails and rolling stock to equip a transport line in Iran for the carrying of supplies to Soviet Russia.

The contemplated supply route over the Iranian railroad, it was said, would provide a means for moving supplies from the Persian Gulf to the Caspian Sea, on which Russia has considerable port facilities.

OPM authorities said that the improving and equipping of rail facilities in Iran to serve Russia from the middle east has been a growing problem ever since British and Russian military forces moved into Iran several months ago.

U. S. Authorities Reported Planning To Hand Dr. Arias Over to Panama

Deposed President Will Be Given Choice of Staying on Ship or Being Arrested if He Gets Off in Canal Zone.

PANAMA, Panama, Oct. 13 (AP).—United States authorities, it was reported today, plan to hustle Panama's overthrown President, Arnulfo Arias, out of the Canal Zone when he arrives there this week, and hand him over to the police of Panama, where he faces arrest.

The Canal Zone authorities will send a radio message advising Arias on shipboard of what to expect, it was said.

It was believed here that Arias would submit to arrest, with the hope of regaining the sympathy of his countrymen.

Dr. Arias, who was in Havana when deposed by a coup d'etat Thursday and who sailed for Cristobal Saturday aboard the American steamer Cefau, probably will be told by radio that his presence in Panama is not wanted by the new regime, it was stated.

The ex-President, it was said, "will be given the choice of remaining aboard ship or of being arrested on the dock at Cristobal."

Gandhi, who is 72 years old, recently expressed hope that Britain and Germany would become exhausted and make peace without either being defeated.

EFFICIENCY BOARD MAKES ITS FINAL REPORT TO MAYOR

Says 4269 City Workers Went Out in 5 Months—Many Held Jobs Illegally, It Asserts.

RECORD SYSTEM CALLED ANTIQUATED

Retiring Members Say They 'Streamlined' Personnel Work—Set Up New Eligible Lists.

The city Efficiency Board, which is to be supplanted this week by the first Civil Service Commission, made its final report to Mayor William De Becker today, showing 433 appointments, 61 reinstatements and 4269 separations from service from May 1, when the board took office, to Sept. 27.

Figures for a slightly longer period, from April 1, when Mayor Becker took office, to Oct. 1, were compiled last week by City Treasurer John J. Dwyer and showed a total of 4951 municipal employees as having resigned or been discharged in the five and one-half months. The number of municipal employees is about 7650, including 890 in the Fire Department who are not considered subject to political change; the number of employees of the Democratic city administration who have been left in jobs pending the political change thus is slightly more than 1800.

Under the merit system adopted to the city charter, amendment by the voters Sept. 16, the Mayor is required to name the three members of the Civil Service Commission within 30 days after that date. Mayor Becker said he would announce the appointments Wednesday.

Members of Board.

The retiring Efficiency Board consists of Charles Hertenstein, chairman; Paul J. Kaveny and McMillan Lewis. The board's report states that it has "streamlined" the city's personnel work since its members took office.

On taking office, the board's report says, it found a large number of temporary positions which had been filled and held for terms exceeding the legal 60-day limit. This, the board says, "left the question of qualifications speculative, and tended to discourage applicants for positions."

The board arranged an examination schedule, which has been carried out thus far. Establishing new eligible lists.

On taking office, the board states, it found only three eligible lists—those for social case workers, smoke inspectors and firemen. The record showed only 10 examinations held in the preceding 14 months. This is declared to have resulted in an inadequate list of qualified applicants, and tended to increase temporary appointments.

The board launched an examination schedule, held 20 examinations covering 50 classifications, and obtained 15 eligible lists. Its schedule, if continued without interruption, "would have seen more examinations held from May 1, 1941, to May 1, 1942, than in any previous year since the institution of the Efficiency Board in 1914."

The board states also that its examination, "for probably the first time, were based largely upon the duties of the different positions as described by the ordinances. Employees who went to work for the city after taking these examinations were the first, as a group, who knew the duties assigned for by city law."

The board's staff of seven was found to be insufficient, and after three of the employees had been replaced, a supplementary appropriation was obtained through the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and a larger staff was employed.

Test Papers Upgraded.

Other conditions found by the board, its report says, were ungraded examination papers of 186 applicants for clerkships; lack of preparation for the annual standardization bill; an antiquated system of permanent records; "evidences of non-compliance with Efficiency Board rules and procedure."

The board put its examining staff to work on the examination papers and held on June 18-19, 15 examinations in the amount High School, probably the largest examination ever held by the city, which was taken by 2095 applicants. It went to work on the standardization bill, changes in which annually follow labor union wage scales. It prepared a survey of records, which it is to turn over to the new Civil Service Commission. The board and its staff made "every effort to follow the rules as closely as possible."

Ten demands for wage increases were made by labor unions, the board says, which it is recommending to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, recommending four of the demands, partly approving three and denying three. The standardization bill then was submitted to the Board of Aldermen.

St. Louis Whose Letter President Cited Takes Post With Youth Group

Harry R. Pelikan State Chairman of New Defense Organization Headed Nationally by Gene Tunney.

Harry R. Pelikan, young St. Louisian who regarded President Roosevelt's response to his own "splendid letter" on being an American as a "commission to write, talk and sell America," has accepted the Missouri State chairmanship of United American Youth for Defense, he told a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

The organization, which has headquarters at 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, is headed by Gene Tunney, Lieutenant-Commander of Naval Reserves, who retired undefeated as heavyweight champion of the world. It is devoted to "standing fast against Nazism, Fascism and Communism" and providing "leadership for American youth—by American youth—rather than through pinkinted agitators and self-appointed minority 'gimmie' groups."

"We insist on a prepared America, first, last and always," it set forth in a call for a "mobilization for defense" to begin with a rally next Thursday evening in New York. Pointing out that only 12 per cent of young people have been taken for military service, it urged, "We, the remaining young women and men not in military service,

SENATE APPROVES INCREASE IN RFC BORROWING POWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—The Senate passed and sent to the White House today a House-approved measure increasing the borrowing power of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation by $1,500,000,000.

The increase boosted the agency's borrowing power to slightly more than $8,000,000,000. Jesse Jones, Secretary of Commerce and RFC chief, estimated last week that about $5,000,000,000 had been lent or committed for defense activities.

Jones indicated in testimony before the Senate Banking Committee that the RFC would request additional funds for defense purposes within 60 or 90 days, explaining that an added $1,000,000,000 was needed for expanding steel production facilities.

EX-JUDGE MANTON RELEASED AFTER YEAR, SEVEN MONTHS

LEWISBURG, Pa., Oct. 13 (AP).—Martin T. Manton, 61-year-old former senior Judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at New York, was released today from the Northeastern Federal Penitentiary after serving a minimum period of a two-year sentence for selling justice.

Manton, whose judicial ranking was next to that of a Supreme Court Justice, was charged in one of five indictments with accepting about $122,000 to influence his decisions over a nine-year period. He was tried in United States District Court at New York.

He has spent a year, seven months and six days in prison. He began his sentence March 7, 1940.

TERMINAL DIRECTORS INSPECT ROUTE PROPOSED BY CITY

Directors of the Terminal Railroad Association took a 17-mile train trip today to study the re-routing plan suggested by the city to bring about the removal of the elevated tracks on the riverfront.

Leaving Union Station in two coaches pulled by a Diesel-powered locomotive, the directors went north over the elevated tracks, crossed Merchants' Bridge, then followed the outer belt route around East St. Louis, returning by way of Municipal Bridge.

If the routing of trains via the outer belt is accepted by the Terminal, the elevated tracks would be replaced by surface tracks to be used by only a few trains.

PRISONER ADMITS KILLING OF GOLF STAR AND MOTHER

Ex-Convict, Held in Fort Worth, Signs Statement, Implicates Night Club Operator.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 13 (AP).—Tom C. Penney, former convict, 32 years old, admitted in a signed statement yesterday that he participated in the killing of Miss Marion Milley, golf star, and her mother in their apartment in a country club at Lexington, Ky., the night of Sept. 23.

Penney said that he and Robert H. Anderson, Louisville night club operator, shot the women in a scuffle when they resisted a robbery attempt.

Penney's statement led to arrest of Anderson in Louisville on a murder charge. He denied complicity.

Clews Leading to Arrest.

A Lexington newspaper carrier, Hugh Cramer, gave police the license number of a sedan he saw the night of the killings.

Detectives arrested Penney Thursday night on a hunch, found the sedan he was driving was one reported stolen from Anderson in Louisville and reported the arrest to Kentucky officials.

Penney said Anderson told him to take the car because it had been stolen.

Statements made by Tommy Lunsford, a friend of Penney, and Bud Tomlinson, both from Lexington, also figured in the apparent solution of the crime.

They said Penney had suggested they participate in the robbery. Their statements said they refused.

Investigators said an exploded shell found in the sedan was of the same caliber as the bullets that killed the golf star and her mother.

Penney's Story of Crime.

When confronted with this information, Penney admitted the shootings and related this story: Penney and Anderson entered the country club apartment, turned off all lights, found a closed door on the second floor and heard someone inside snoring. They returned to their car and got pistols.

"When we got up the stairs Anderson used something to knock the panel out of the door. Anderson reached inside then and opened the door and I went into the room with him," Penney said in his statement.

"There was a bunch of scream-

COURT REFUSES TO REVIEW INJUNCTION-REFUSAL APPEAL

Pauly Jail Building Co. Falls in Move to Enjoin Boycott of Steel Workers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—The United States Supreme Court today refused to review a decision which declined to enjoin a labor union from conducting a boycott against the Pauly Jail Building Co. of St. Louis.

The company contended the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers had sought to persuade customers of the company to cease doing business with it by claiming it refused to enter into a union agreement.

The Eighth Federal Circuit Court of Appeals reversed a decision of the Eastern Missouri Federal District Court which enjoined the union from representing the company was unfair in refusing to enter into a collective bargaining agreement containing a closed-shop provision. The Supreme Court refused to review the appellate court ruling.

PAPERS SCARCE IN MANHATTAN AS NEWSSTANDS GO ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP).—Newspapers were hard to get in many sections of the city today as a result of a news dealers' strike against eight afternoon and morning papers.

Joseph Masello, president of Local 22,371, News Dealers Federal Union (AFL), claimed about 1600 of the city's 2100 licensed news dealers as members and said the strike was 90 per cent effective.

On most downtown and some midtown stands, only P. M. and the Brooklyn Eagle were on sale, with both of which the union said it had an amicable agreement. In many other parts of the city, however, all papers were on sale as usual.

The strike was prompted by a difference over returned, unsold papers. The union said dealers paid $2.35 a hundred and were seeking this amount on returns instead of the $1.50 which they said they now get. No comment was forthcoming immediately from the newspapers affected.

NAVY WITHHOLDING DETAILS
ON NAZI RADIO SHIP SEIZURE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—The Navy indicated it intended to see the captured Nazi radio expedition ship safe in a United States port before disclosing further details on how the ship was caught off Greenland after setting up a secret wireless station there.

The fact that the 60-ton vessel was intercepted "during September," as the official announcement said guardedly, led to the belief that it would be brought into port some time this week, at the latest, but the Navy had nothing to say either about the day or the location of the port.

The Navy, in announcing capture of the radio expedition, did not specify whether the secret station in Greenland had been in operation. However, it spoke of the station as one "from which (reports) were to be sent"—and this phrasing led some to believe that the station had been found before it transmitted any messages.

The Williamson Heater Company:
In regard to the Williamson furnace, I have used it for three winters and I have not found any fault with it. I have 3 rooms, 2 halls, 2 baths and a full-size basement. I use 2nd-grade coal and have a nice warm house, as the furnace holds fire well. In zero weather I fire about twice in the forenoon and twice in the afternoon.

MICHIGAN STRIKE HALTS WORK ON TANKS IN TOLEDO

CIO Won't Handle Parts From Plant Where Its Men Were Ejected After AFL Won Election.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Assembly work on defense vehicles was at a standstill today at the Spicer Manufacturing Co. at Toledo, O., in a dispute involving operation of the company's Hilldale (Mich.) subsidiary.

Ralph E. Carpenter, Spicer's vice-president, said work had been halted on transmissions for tanks, half-tracks and other defense vehicles, but that the concern's 2000 workers had been placed on projects not involving the handling of materials from Hilldale.

The CIO United Auto Workers has a contract at Spicer and the AFL Auto Workers won a bargaining election at Hilldale.

Thomas Burke, secretary of Local 12 of the CIO-UAW, said the CIO was not involved in a boycott or jurisdictional dispute. He asserted that the CIO-UAW had declared a strike existing at Hilldale because of the election of 26 men who refused to join the AFL auto union and that the Toledo contract restricts unionists from handling materials from a struck plant.

U. S. Conciliator at Work.
James J. Spillane, Federal conciliator, said after more than 10 hours of conferences with union and company representatives at Detroit yesterday that progress had been made and that there were indications a settlement would be reached when conversations were resumed today.

A strike involving 2800 workmen today closed the Ingalls shipbuilding yards which has $100,000,000 in contracts for 31 ships for the United States Maritime Commission and four netlayers for the navy.

Walter S. Lowry Jr., business manager of the Boilermakers Union (AFL) said the workmen refused to enter the yards this morning because of an "attempt by the company to start an independent union."

There were no wage scale disputes involved, according to W. R. Guest, vice-president of the Ingalls Co.

Auto Shutdown Threatened.
Automobile industry shutdowns expected to affect 100,000 workmen were only a few days in the offing today with CIO United Automobile Workers still on strike at the Midland Steel Products Co., Cleveland.

The union turned down at a meeting yesterday a proposal from Federal Conciliator James F. Dewey that it accept the company's demand for a $15,000 annual limit on wage increases under job reclassifications sought by the union for 342 of its members. Previously the company and the union had agreed on general wage increases to end the two-week strike.

Dewey's estimate of the 100,000 auto workers who would be laid off by mid-week due to a lack of steel frames supplied by Midland Hudson workers would be laid off, then 24,000 Buick employees. Army "jeeps" produced by Willys-Overland at Toledo also use Midland frames. Six thousand employees of the Studebaker passenger car department already have been made idle.

General wage increases ranging from 8 to 13 cents an hour were agreed upon by company officers and the CIO union.

The present minimum is 65 cents an hour, and the union had asked for a 20-cent increase to raise rates at the Cleveland plant up to those of Midland's Detroit factory.

CUDAHY CO. LOSES APPEAL IN RECORD INSPECTION CASE

Court Rules Wage-Hour Division Can Examine Payrolls Without Attorney General's Approval.

The administrator of the wage and hour division of the Department of Labor has the right to inspect payroll records of a company under investigation without first obtaining approval of the United States Attorney General, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals held in a majority opinion filed here today in a case involving the Cudahy Packing Co.

Administrator Philip B. Fleming had asked the company to turn over payroll records for its plants at St. Paul and Newport, Minn., but the company had said it would turn over only those records concerning persons who had made complaints. Fleming obtained an order from United States District Court at St. Paul directing the company to comply with a subpoena duces tecum and the company appealed, contending the law required approval of the Attorney General and that his office had specifically directed the wage-hour division to give notice of legal proceedings.

The majority opinion of the appellate court held the proceedings did not constitute unreasonable search and seizure, and that the inter-departmental order was not intended to prevent the administrator from instituting legal action. In a dissenting opinion, Judge Kimbrough Stone held the case should be sent back to the District Court to give the Attorney General an opportunity to approve or disapprove the action.

WINDFALL APPLES PUT COWS ON JAG; ONE OUT ALL NIGHT

SILVER CREEK, N. Y., Oct. 13 (AP).—Farmer Chauncey McAndrew came to town with this story today about what happened when his cows ate too many corn shocks and windfall apples: "They acted dazed and sick, and finally I realized they were drunk. I succeeded in getting all but one inside the barn. She finally fell by the wayside and I got her a blanket and made her comfortable for the night. "The next morning she was leaning cross-legged against a tree. I pulled her tail, flopped her ears and tried to rouse her, but she only looked at me with a dazed expression. "While taking her to the barn she reeled from tree to tree. Then, in the barn at last, she fell on the floor in a deep sleep."

His wife, Mrs. Thelma Stewart, his parents and three brothers.

day and night forays which extended all the way to Norway. The Air Ministry listed results of these raids as follows: Northern France—Fires set among docks and railway yards at Boulogne, Calais and Dunkerque; German airdromes bombed and machine-gunned.

Norway—A supply ship set afire and two other vessels hit by bombs off the coast; a fish oil factory damaged.

The Netherlands—A tanker and a large supply ship damaged in an attack on a German convoy off-shore.

These successes, the Ministry said, were achieved with the loss of two British fighter planes and three bombers—including one shot down in raids on Germany Saturday night.

The British said they shot down four German fighters over Northern France and three more over the channel yesterday, two bombers over Britain Saturday night and a third last night. German raids on Britain over the week end were described officially as light. A communique acknowledged that some damage was done in Northern and Eastern England last night and reported a small number of casualties. Heavy defense fire was said to have been thrown up from latest type anti-aircraft guns. German long range guns on the LONDON, Oct. 13. A GERMAN Fockewulf plane was shot down as it attacked a large British convoy Friday. The communique suggests that the plane was downed by the escort's guns and not by the fighter aircraft, which the Admiralty now admits convoys carry.

For many weeks it has been known that large, armed merchantmen have been equipped with fighters which are launched from the decks by catapult but there had been a bar on mentioning it. One ship so equipped put in at an American port for repairs and the Admiralty held its breath fearing stories and pictures in the American press would tell the Germans why they had been losing so many of their seapreying aircraft.

However, the story was not revealed from the United States but from Canada when the convoy reached there.

French coast shelled the Dover area at intervals for several hours yesterday, but there were no reports of casualties.

HULL, MANCHESTER RAIDED, NAZIS SAY

BERLIN, Oct. 13 (AP).—German planes "effectively bombed" the English industrial center of Manchester and the port of Hull last night, the high command announced today.

It said 26 British planes were destroyed over Germany, the channel region and in North Africa. Besides Manchester and Hull, German bombers also attacked airdromes and harbors in East and Southeast England, the communique said. It reported a merchant ship of 8000 tons was sunk off Great Yarmouth.

The Germans said long range batteries of the army and navy shelled a radio station at Dover. They acknowledged British raids on Northwestern, Western and Southern Germany and said their defenses brought down 13 British bombers.

The high command admitted there were casualties and damage but did not elaborate.

SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE IF RED CAN BE U. S. CITIZEN

Litigation May Result in Ruling on Whether Communist Party Advocates Overthrow of Government by Force.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—The United States Supreme Court agreed today to review litigation which would open the way for a straight out ruling on whether the Communist party advocates violent overthrow of the United States Government.

The Court granted an appeal by William Schneiderman, State secretary of the Communist party for California and a native of Russia. He sought a review of a decision by the United States District Court at San Francisco cancelling his American citizenship on the ground that for nearly 22 years after the Communist party had been concealed.

Whether Communist membership prevented allegiance to the United States Government was the principal issue.

This was one of more than 250 cases acted on today at the first session of the new term devoted to transacting business. These were among the controversies that accumulated during the four-month summer recess.

Among other actions, the Court granted a Justice Department petition for a review of a decision holding that the Federal Anti-Racketeering Act does not apply to members of a labor union alleged to have required owners of trucks entering New York City from outside the State to hire a union member to drive and unload the truck.

This was the first case involving construction of the Anti-Racketeering Act to reach the tribunal.

Acting on other outstanding controversies, the court:

- (1) Agreed to pass on decisions which held constitutional provisions of the 1938 Wisconsin Employment Peace Act outlawing what were termed unfair labor practices by employers. Picketing and boycotting in connection with a strike which had not been approved by secret ballot were mentioned specifically.

- (2) Declined to review a decision holding that a state (Tennessee specifically) had the right to require payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite to voting for a member of Congress.
- (3) Granted a Justice Department appeal from a decision that the Hatch Act regulating political activities in an election does not apply to primaries. The United States District Court at Jacksonville ruled that Congress had excluded primaries “however desirable such coverage might be.”

- (4) Denied an appeal by Richard W. Leche, former Governor of Louisiana, who was convicted on a charge of using the mail in a scheme to defraud the Louisiana Highway Commission by purchasing trucks at an excessive price. He was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary.

- (5) Declined to review a decision ordering William Dudley Pelley, leader of the Silver Shirts of America, returned to Asheville, N. C., for possible revocation of probation granted after his 1935 conviction of violating North Carolina blue sky laws.

- (6) Denied an appeal by Pierre S. du Pont, Delaware industrialist, and John J. Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, from a decision holding that they cannot deduct from their 1939 Federal income tax for claimed losses of several million dollars on asserted stock sales to each other. Lawyers estimated that, under the Board of Tax Appeals ruling, Raskob might owe approximately $1,000,000 in Federal taxes and du Pont about $600,000.

- (7) Agreed to pass on litigation to determine whether the Federal wage-hour administrator may delegate to subordinates the power to issue subpoenas for records or must issue them himself. The cases involved the Lowell (Mass.) Sun, a newspaper, and the Shreveport plant of the Cudahy Packing Co.

- (8) Denied an appeal by General Motors Corporation and three wholly owned subsidiaries from a decision holding them guilty of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Law in connection with automobile financing.

- (9) The tribunal also agreed to review a decision holding that seamen may not be discharged for engaging in a peaceful strike on board their vessel in a domestic port. The case involved the Southern Steamship Co. of Philadelphia.
- (10) In another labor case, the Court declined to review a decision holding that the American Federation of Labor has the right to determine which of two contending affiliates may organize a certain class of workers. The federation gave the teamsters' union the right to organize beer drivers over the protest of the Brewery Workers' Union.

- (11) The Court declined to review a decision that it is not a “lawful labor objective” for a union “to insist that machinery be discarded in order that manual labor may take its place.” Two American Federation of Labor affiliates had sought to compel Opera on Tour, Inc., of New York to abandon the use of recorded music. Only one word usually was required to dispose of the petitions—either “granted” or “denied.”

Denial of a review meant that the lower court's decision appealed from remained in effect. It did not mean necessarily that the Supreme Court agreed with the ruling.

Granting of a review meant that belonged to an organization advocating violent overthrow of the Government.

Bridges Contempt Case.
The right of a State court to punish for contempt for unfavorable comment on a judicial action in the asserted absence of evidence that an attempt was made to obstruct justice was argued before the Court today.

Bridges, who called a labor union injunction ruling “outrageous” in a telegram to Secretary of Labor Perkins, asked for a reversal of a California conviction on the ground that the telegram neither obstructed or attempted to obstruct further action in the case.

Set for argument later was the appeal of the Los Angeles Times for a contempt conviction, also at Los Angeles, for editorial comment in cases where there had been convictions but where new trial motions were pending.

Osmond K. Frankel, attorney for Bridges, was interrupted frequently by Chief Justice Stone who questioned him as to how far he thought the Supreme Court would go in inquiring into whether a California Supreme Court was correct in determining the telegram had “the reasonable tendency” to affect administration of justice.

Frankfurter's Questions.
Associate Justice Frankfurter, by his questions, appeared impressed by the State court's determination that under certain circumstances certain actions could have a possible tendency to effect the judicial administration whether or not a particular act was actually found to have influenced a certain case.

Frankel argued there was no evidence either that the Judge in question ever knew of a telegram or that Bridges had knowledge there was a new trial motion pending at the time he sent the telegram.

Allen W. Ashburn, counsel for the California Superior Court, told the court he expected to prove that the Bridges telegram was “a threat of resistance to the court.”

There was nothing in the record, he said, to show that Bridges contended that he did not have a fair trial.

BLAZE SWEEPS RUBBER FACTORY; LOSS, 13 MILLION

Large Stores of Government Material Destroyed at Fall River, Mass.—Defense Plants Intact.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 13 (AP).—While the ruins of the $13,000,000 fire in the Firestone Rubber Co. plant still smoldered today, Roger S. Firestone, president of the company, announced plans for a resumption of work on defense products by tomorrow morning.

In a joint statement, Firestone and J. Edward Trainer, vice-president and production manager of the Firestone enterprises, said buildings and machinery devoted to manufacture of defense products, with the exception of leak-proof gasoline tanks, were unharmed in the blaze.

“Our number one, two and three plants will be in operation tomorrow morning,” the statement said. “As rapidly as possible, we will equip unoccupied sections of these buildings to replace the facilities lost in the fire.”

“Our only loss was to the plastics and non-defense products plants.” This loss, however, was put at $12,000,000.

Firemen from 30 Massachusetts and Rhode Island cities fought more than eight hours to check the blaze, which raced through most of the waterfront plant.

The flames, generating heat so intense that firemen were unable to stay within effective reach, destroyed five large structures and damaged three others.

Eleven firemen were sent to hospitals for minor injuries and smoke inhalation.

The blaze originated, a workman said, in an oven in a small room on the third floor of a five-story brick building where rubber automobile cushions were being heated. Seven workmen fled to safety after finding fire extinguishers were ineffective against the flames. Sped by wind and repeated explosions of chemicals, the flames reached two four-story buildings containing machinery and stocks in process of manufacture and two large warehouses reported to have held 30,000 tons or more of Government-owned emergency rubber. The Federal Bureau of Investigation began an investigation today.

45 T N T PLANT MACHINISTS GO OUT ON STRIKE

cause any immediate serious curtailment of construction. Machinists installing machinery, he explained, were dividing the work with members of the Millwrights' and Machinists' Union, an affiliate of the Carpenters' District Council, as arranged in a compromise settlement of the long-standing jurisdictional dispute between machinists and carpenters.

Newell, Weber and Dolan will meet at the Melbourne Hotel tonight in an effort to reach a settlement. Others who will attend the conference are John J. Church, secretary of the Building Trades Council; Joseph P. Clark, president of the Central Trades and Labor Union, and William F. White, United States Commissioner of Conciliation.

Weber told a Post-Dispatch reporter all 22 mechanics had joined the machinists' union, but were told by the garage foreman, a member of Newell's union, that they would have to join the engineers. Most of the men paid a $127 initiation fee and were initiated into the engineers' union while working at the plant, he said.

Both Seek Pay Boost.
Newell, whose union is affiliated with the Building Trades Council, contends that regulations of that group give him jurisdiction over the men as long as the plant is under construction. Weber's argument is that his union is not a member of the building trades group and hence not affected by their rules and that garage mechanics on similar construction jobs are members of the machinists' union.

Both unions are asking that the garage men's pay be increased from a flat $50 for a 40-hour week to $150 an hour, with the same overtime and shift regulations as those in effect for other craft unions. Representatives of the contractors have told both unions that the jurisdictional dispute would have to be settled before a wage agreement can be negotiated.

CORNELIUS M. McDONALD DIES; HEAD OF REAL ESTATE FIRM

Cornelius M. McDonald, president of the McDonald Realty Co., died of a complication of diseases at De Paul Hospital today. He was 66 years old and had been in poor health about 18 months.

Mr. McDonald was born in New York City and got his start in the real estate business here 52 years ago as an office boy. He was president of the Real Estate Exchange in 1916 and was one of the organizers of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, formed in 1908.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Stella C. McDonald; a daughter, Miss Lucille McDonald, and two sons, Glenn McDonald and Cornelius M. McDonald Jr. Mr. McDonald resided at 76 Aberdeen place.

Judge in the court he expected to prove that the telegram was a threat of resistance to the decision of the court.

There was nothing in the record, he said, to show that Bridges contended that he did not have a fair trial.

BLAZE SWEEPS RUBBER FACTORY; LOSS, 13 MILLION

Large Stores of Government Material Destroyed at Fall River, Mass.—Defense Plants Intact.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 13 (AP).—While the ruins of the $13,000,000 fire in the Firestone Rubber Co. plant still smoldered today, Roger S. Firestone, president of the company, announced plans for a resumption of work on defense products by tomorrow morning.

In a joint statement, Firestone and J. Edward Trainer, vice-president and production manager of the Firestone enterprises, said buildings and machinery devoted to manufacture of defense products, with the exception of leak-proof gasoline tanks, were unharmed in the blaze.

"Our number one, two and three plants will be in operation tomorrow morning," the statement said. "As rapidly as possible, we will equip unoccupied sections of these buildings to replace the facilities lost in the fire."

"Our only loss was to the plastics and non-defense products plants." This loss, however, was put at $13,000,000.

Firemen from 30 Massachusetts and Rhode Island cities fought more than eight hours to check the blaze, which raced through most of the waterfront plant. The flames, generating heat so intense that firemen were unable to stay within effective reach, destroyed five large structures and damaged three others.

Eleven firemen were sent to hospitals for minor injuries and smoke inhalation. The blaze originated, a workman said, in an oven in a small room on the third floor of a five-story brick building where rubber automobile cushions were being heated. Seven workmen fled to safety after finding fire extinguishers were ineffective.

Sped by wind and repeated explosions of chemicals, the flames reached two four-story buildings containing machinery and stocks in process of manufacture and two large warehouses reported to have held 30,000 tons or more of Government-owned emergency rubber. The Federal Bureau of Investigation began an investigation today.

cause any immediate serious curtailment of construction. Machinists installing machinery, he explained, were dividing the work with members of the Millwrights' and Machinery Erectors' union, an affiliate of the Carpenters' District Council, as arranged in a compromise settlement of the long-standing jurisdictional dispute between machinists and carpenters.

Newell, Weber and Dolan will meet at the Melbourne Hotel tonight in an effort to reach a settlement. Others who will attend the conference are John J. Church, secretary of the Building Trades Council; Joseph P. Clark, president of the Central Trades and Labor Union, and William F. White, United States Commissioner of Conciliation.

Weber told a Post-Dispatch reporter all 22 mechanics had joined the machinists' union, but were told by the garage foreman, a member of Newell's union, that they would have to join the engineers. Most of the men paid a $127 initiation fee and were initiated into the engineers' union while working at the plant, he said.

Both seek pay boost.

Newell, whose union is affiliated with the Building Trades Council, contends that regulations of that group give him jurisdiction over the men as long as the plant is under construction. Weber's argument is that his union is not a member of the building trades group and hence not affected by their rules and that garage mechanics on similar construction jobs are members of the machinists' union.

Both unions are asking that the garage men's pay be increased from a flat $50 a week to $1.50 an hour, with the same overtime and shift regulations as those in effect for other craft unions. Representatives of the contractors have told both unions that the jurisdictional dispute would have to be settled before a wage agreement can be negotiated.

BELL TELEPHONE CO. MAKES SWAP WITH 100-PHONE RIVAL

Needs Exchange at Camp Chaffee So It Gives Operator Another.

The $500,000,000 Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. is not above a bit of old-fashioned horse trading. Neither is Lee Hayes, a business rival who operated a 100-telephone independent exchange at Barling, Ark.

Southwestern Bell, asked to provide telephone service for Camp Chaffee, new army training center under construction near Fort Smith, Ark., found it first must acquire the Barling franchise and exchange.

Hayes, who has been running independent telephone systems for the last 20 years, didn't feel like retiring, so Southwestern Bell made him a proposition. "Take a look about our system," company officers told him. "Pick out any exchange about the size of yours and we'll make a clean swap."

After visiting Tuckerman, Ark., Hayes decided, without seeing any other exchanges, that he would be willing to accept the 88-telephone exchange there. One of the attractive aspects of the Tuckerman exchange was that Southwestern Bell had just finished rebuilding its system there.

Company officers were a bit reluctant about the whole thing, but they needed the Barling exchange. They announced today that the deal had been completed and Hayes would take over the Tuckerman exchange Nov. 1.

CHINESE REPORT JAPAN IS MASSING TO ATTACK REDS

32 Divisions in Manchou-kuo—41,250 Nipponese Dead Found Near Chang-sha, General Says.

CHANGSHA, Hunan Province, China, Oct. 11 (Delayed AP).—The Japanese are massing 32 divisions in Manchoukuo for an attack on Siberia, Gen. Hsueh Yueh, commander of China's sixth war zone, asserted today.

He told correspondents three Japanese divisions which recently took part in the drive on Chang-sha, the third, fourth and sixth, soon would be sent to Siberia.

He said the Chinese buried 41,250 Japanese dead in the Chang-sha action between Sept. 6 and Oct. 10, and declared that number represented about one-fourth of the total Japanese forces engaged in the campaign. The Japanese have now withdrawn from Chang-sha.

Meanwhile the Chinese-Japanese war, Hsueh said, has entered a "new, momentous phase" in which China will push a general counter-offensive. He described this as the third stage of the war, in which China would drive out the Japanese and said that the United States, Britain and Russia should come in for a knock-out blow.

NEW RED FIGHTER PLANE EXCELS MESSERSCHMITTS, LORD BEAVERBROOK SAYS

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—LORD BEAVERBROOK, British Supply Minister, who has just returned from Russia, said yesterday that the Soviet air force had developed two new types of planes, the MIG3 which he declared superior to the German Messerschmitts, and the Stormovik dive bomber, which he reported had proved an "outstanding success in attacking troop concentrations."

Beaverbrook said the United States and British experts at the Moscow conference found the Soviet aircraft and engine factories were operating at a level of efficiency similar to that of the United States.

BEAVERBROOK CALLS ON U. S., BRITAIN FOR 30,000 TANKS

brook recounted, "the answers came straight from Harriman (W. Averell Harriman, head of the American delegation) or me."

"He said 'agreed' if the items concerned the United States. I said 'O K' when Britain was producing the supplies. And as the list rolled on, Litvinov (Maxim Litvinov, former Foreign Commissar), got up from his seat, crying out with enthusiasm. Stalin's relief was manifest."

The Soviet Union, Beaverbrook said, must be enabled to enter a spring campaign with adequate war supplies of every kind. Britain even "will forego food from abroad" if the ships are needed to get them to Russia, he asserted.

Says Moscow Is Good. He admitted that the Red armies today are in "dire peril," but declared their morale was unbroken. From the long-range point of view, he said, Britain must mobilize a super tank army for "the day when our defensive operations are abandoned to attack."

Therefore, he asserted, Britain and the United States should turn out tanks on a program "vaster than any yet laid down" or even contemplated.

The Daily Sketch, in calling for immediate American participation in the war, said "the idea of this titanic struggle can be won without any shedding of American blood may be dismissed by every American as insane."

"At the risk of appearing ungrateful, we must tell the Americans it is true that one declaration of total war was this juncture by America against Germany would accomplish more for victory than the delivery of 3000 American tanks every month to Russia and ourselves can possibly hope to do."

"Vigor of Action" Wanted. The Daily Mirror commented: "What will be the answer of the Government to demands echoing throughout the country in favor of immediate aid to Russia? The time is past even for vigor of expression. It is vigor of action that is wanted."

The Daily Herald said: "The Government must realize by now that its inability to provide a diversion (by opening a second land front against Germany) has bitterly disappointed public opinion."

It was a "specially contributed" article in the Sunday Chronicle which advanced the idea of a joint United States-British pact to curb Japan.

One commentator estimated that such a check on Japan would free in the East the bulk of 9000 Russian tanks, 3000 armored cars, 8000 planes and Russia's "finest army" of 450,000 men.

No Official Comment. There was no official comment on the suggestion, but some sources cited Prime Minister Churchill's speech after the Atlantic meeting with President Roosevelt in which he said the United States and Britain were agreed that Japanese "aggression" in the Pacific must end and if it did not "we shall of course range ourselves unhesitatingly at the side of the United States."

Informed quarters said Churchill expects to make an early statement in Commons on the position of Russia.

Meanwhile, the Communist party in Britain issued a statement demanding the opening of a second front in the west to "save British honor."

One military writer advocated sending some of Britain's idle troops to Iran to support a British drive up through the Caucasus to help Red forces between the Sea of Azov and the Caspian.

Many military experts agreed that no matter how great the volume of British-American aid in the form of war material, it will arrive too late to be of use in the present Russian crisis and a more far-reaching step is needed.

If the present German drive succeeds and the Russians lose Archangel, it was said, Britain and the United States will face the virtually impossible task of supplying Russia over the Trans-Siberian and Iranian railways.

WOMAN BOOKED FOR SPEEDING

Also Charged With Passing Stop Signs, Having No License.

Miss Betty Jean Cather, 4210 Vista avenue, was arrested early yesterday after police in a scout car chased her seven block on Arsenal street, Pennsylvania avenue and Junata street, during which, it was said, she drove without lights, was speeding and passed four stop signs. She also was booked for driving without city and State driver's licenses.

Her companion, Ernest Brown, 2362 Lawrence street, who owns the automobile, was booked for permitting an unauthorized person to drive his machine.

FIGHTING FLARES UP ABOUT TOBRUK; POLES IN ACTION

Several Tank Thrusts by Both Sides—British Patrol Attacks Nazi Outpost in Egypt.

CAIRO, Oct. 13 (AP).—Unusual activity over a wide area of Libya was reported by the British Middle East command today, with both British and Axis forces making frequent thrusts involving artillery, tanks and mechanized units.

At Tobruk, where the British have been besieged for more than two months, British infantry patrols, supported by tanks, command Axis forces to withdraw from the communication said.

Polish patrols in a Southwest sector attacked Axis strong points yesterday and inflicted "numerous casualties" on a garrison before withdrawing, the British said.

The Axis forces counterattacked, putting down a continuous but ineffective barrage for the remainder of the night, the communiqué continued.

A British artillery barrage yesterday dispersed Axis parties working on defenses in the Southeast, the British said. German tanks were rushed into action, but were said to have been forced to withdraw.

In the Libyan-Egyptian frontier area four German armored cars were put to flight and a fifth was captured along with several German prisoners and a quantity of equipment when a British mechanized patrol attacked an outpost.

(A British broadcast heard in New York said a Polish infantry division, newly arrived at Tobruk, set up artillery pieces and opened duel with besieging forces. The broadcast quoted the Polish commander as saying, "We cannot be bothered with the Italians. Please let us where the Germans are."

RUBBER-TREADED TANKS FROM U. S.
By EDWARD KENNEDY.
WITH BRITISH DESERT FORCES IN EGYPT, Oct. 13 (AP).—American-made tanks in a steady stream have been moved into a forward area by British armored troops and may soon be moving into battle in considerable numbers.

Many more are in Egypt being repaired for action, and still more are arriving regularly. Among the models in use here is the 13 1/2-ton American light tank, propelled by a 250-horsepower engine.

It is protected by extra-tough armor plate and air conditioned—not by design, but because air forcing is drawn from inside the tank to dust free. This creates a draft which cools the interior, an important factor in this part of the world.

The British, however, say the main advantage of the American tanks over those previously used is that their caterpillar pads are of rubber instead of steel.

The rubber treads are so tough that they last longer than steel and so elastic they reduce the chances of breakage enormously, tank men here say. When worn on the side the runners can be turned over.

FIGHTING FLARES UP ABOUT TOBRUK, POLES IN ACTION

Several Tank Thrusts by Both Sides—British Patrol Attacks Nazi Outpost in Egypt.

CAIRO, Oct. 13 (AP).—Unusual activity over a wide area of Libya was reported by the British Middle East command today, with both British and Axis forces making frequent thrusts involving artillery, tanks and mechanized units.

At Tobruk, where the British have been besieged for more than two months, British infantry patrols, supported by tanks, compelled Axis forces to withdraw from a recently captured observation post, the communiqué said. Polish patrols in a Southwest sector attacked Axis strong points Saturday and inflicted "numerous casualties" on a garrison before withdrawing, the British said. The Axis forces counterattacked, putting down a continuous but ineffective barrage for the remainder of the night, the communiqué continued.

A British artillery barrage yesterday dispersed Axis parties working on defenses in the Southeast, the British said. German tanks were rushed into action, but were said to have been forced to withdraw.

In the Libyan-Egyptian frontier, four German armored cars were put to flight and a fifth was captured along with several German prisoners and a quantity of equipment when a British mechanized patrol attacked an outpost.

(A British broadcast heard in New York said a Polish infantry division, newly arrived at Tobruk, set up artillery pieces and opened a duel with besieging forces. The broadcast quoted the Polish commander as saying, "We cannot be bothered with the Germans here."

RUBBER-TREADED TANKS FROM U. S.

Flashes of Life

Mystery Solved.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 13.—Titusville officials couldn't understand how a quarter got in a parking meter designed to take nothing larger than a nickel, but Police Officer Andy Wald had the answer. A motorist asked Wald for change for a quarter. The officer did not have the change, but had the key to the parking meter. So he unlocked the meter, gave the motorist his change and dropped the quarter into the box.

The Hard Way.

OAKLAND, Cal.—These burglars went at it the hard way. Thieves smashed three cash registers at a cocktail lounge and stole $1200. Owner George Biff said a mere punch of a key would have opened them.

Wants Pay for Work.

CHICAGO—Seven-year-old Bobby Davey told Police Sgt. Fred Koehler that he was discouraged because he never got paid for finding lost children in his neighborhood and suggested that he should be given a salary for his work. He recommended that for every lost child he found he would be paid "5 cents a kid or an ice cream soda." Koehler told Bobby that only his lack of experience disqualified him for the proposed role of juvenile officer.

Colorful Firemen.

CHICAGO — Fire Chief Jerry Falvey of the 25th Battalion and 40 of his firemen were black and blue after they finished fighting a fire—but the discolorations weren't from bruises. They extinguished a fire on the seventh floor in an ink making machine. Ink pigment dissolved in the water from the fire hoses and flowed down the stairway.

FIRST ARREST IN CITY UNDER NEW LIQUOR ACT

'There's Nobody Here,' Calls Voice From Tavern, but Police Find 24.

A shout that "There's nobody here!" nonplussed the police liquor squad yesterday when they attempted to enter a tavern at 3157 Morganford road, but after waiting patiently for an hour "somebody," in the form of Philip H. Kimmel, proprietor of the tavern, admitted them and 23 men were found in a rear room.

There was no evidence, when the squad gained admittance, that drinks had been served the men. But the police, supported by the new State liquor law which specifies no one shall be in a tavern during closed hours, arrested Kimmel.

The arrest is the first under the new section of the liquor law which went into effect Friday. Kimmel was booked also as suspected of violating the city and state laws by selling liquor on Sunday. In another raid in a building at 2546 Hebert street, in the rear of a tavern, police peeked through a tear in a drawn shade and saw about six men being served drinks over an improvised bar and three slot machines in operation.

Raymond Tobin, who gave his address as 1904 Destrehan street, and Harry Bangert, who said he lived at 2628 West Hebert street, were arrested suspected of selling liquor without a license and setting up a common gaming device.

Tobin told police the persons in the room were members of the "Cornell Athletic Club," and asserted it was a private place. The customers, however, on being questioned said they knew nothing about the club. Bangert said he was just a volunteer bartender, helping Tobin.

6 KILLED, 15 HURT IN EXPLOSION AT ALASKA AIR BASE

Blast, Caused by Grass Fire, Breaks Windows in Church at Sitka Three Miles Away.

SITKA, Alaska, Oct. 13 (AP).—An explosion of 43,000 pounds of dynamite at the Sitka naval air station yesterday killed five soldiers and a marine and injured at least 15 other persons.

The force of the explosion broke windows in Sitka, three miles away on Baranof Island, and several civilians, including members of a church congregation, were cut by falling glass.

Navy officials said a grass fire touched off the explosion. The six who were killed were members of a fire-fighting crew which rushed to the blaze just as the flames reached an underground magazine where the dynamite was stored.

A naval board of inquiry was convened to investigate the fire and the explosion. Army men killed were listed as Capt. Francis C. Allen, provost marshal, from Kentfield, Cal.; Pvt. Ralph E. Kirkbridge, Los Gatos, Cal.; Pvt. Frank E. Hayton, San Francisco; Pvt. Albert A. Spurling, Everettville, W. Va.; Medley C. Eastabrook, rank and home address not given. The marine was Pvt. Thomas A. Baskom, whose father lives in Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The navy declined to estimate damage inside the air station, which is under construction, and did not disclose whether huge hangars built within the last year had been damaged.

Windows were blown out at the station at nearby Millerville, and many of the homes recently built to house personnel of the $5,000,000 base—were badly damaged.

The explosion occurred as benediction was being pronounced in a Sitka church. The parishioners were showered with glass. Others on Sitka streets were cut.

The 15 known injured at the air base included five navy men, an army private, six civil service employees and two employees of the Sitka contractors, the Sitka-Puget Sound Co. The wife of one of the employees was hurt. The dynamite was the property of the Sitka contractors.

during the early 1920's were involved in the story.

Daugherty spent three years as Attorney General, resigning in 1924 at the request of President Coolidge, and while a Senate committee investigation of alleged misconduct in office was under way.

For the next seven years, he defended himself against allegations involving the Teapot Dome case, Veterans Bureau irregularities, alien property conspiracies, and the pardoning of Charles W. Morse and Eugene Debs. No convictions ever were obtained.

Daugherty is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Emily Rarey of Columbus, and a brother, Mal S. Daugherty of Washington Court House, O. His wife died in 1924. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon, with burial at Washington Court House.

STORMY CAREER OF DAUGHERTY IN JUSTICE OFFICE

HARRY M. DAUGHERTY took pride in pointing to the following accomplishments:

Collection of millions of dollars for the Federal Government in war frauds and prohibition cases; Appointment of J. Edgar Hoover as an assistant in the Federal Bureau of Investigation, from which he later was promoted to chief; Establishment of the Federal Industrial Reformatory at Chillicothe, O., on the theory that first-time offenders should not be mixed with veteran criminals; and establishment of the Federal Prison for Women at Alderson, W. Va.

Daugherty was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School and began his political career as a City Councilman in Washington Court House, O., where he was born Jan. 26, 1860. He became Prosecuting Attorney of Fayette County and served in the Ohio House of Representatives from 1889 to 1894. Later he made unsuccessful bids for the offices of Ohio Attorney General, Governor and district Congressman.

Almost as soon as the Republican ticket won in the 1920 election, it became apparent that Daugherty would be Attorney General, although repeated attacks had been directed against his political record and his personal qualifications for high office. For a year after Daugherty took office the rumblings were almost quieted. But they broke forth again in May, 1922. Democratic Senators revived an old charge growing out of his connection as attorney with the liberation from prison of Charles W. Morse, pardoned by President Taft on the mistaken assumption that the prisoner's death was imminent. It was charged that Daugherty had "tricked" Taft and received a fat fee. The Attorney General denied that he had been guilty of improper practices, and published the official records to support his denial. Morse lived until January, 1933.

Fought Unions.
A little later Daugherty was accused on the floor of the Senate of having assigned Department of Justice agents to shadow members of Congress. Then in September, 1922, the gathering storm developed a new direction. The country was in the midst of a nationwide railway shopmen's strike, accompanied by many angry recriminations and some violence. Without warning, the Attorney General appeared in Federal Court in Chicago, and obtained an injunction forbidding the strikers from picketing, interfering with railway operation, or seeking to induce others to quit the employ of the roads. Instantly there was protest from organized labor. Samuel Gompers denounced Daugherty's action as tyrannous, and 10 days later Representative Keller of Minnesota presented a resolution asking for Daugherty's impeachment. But after a hearing, in the course of which Keller became offended and quit the case, the House Judiciary Committee killed the resolution, 12 to 2, and reprimanded Keller for his withdrawal.

In May, 1923, Daugherty's constant companion, Jess Smith, committed suicide in the apartment they occupied jointly in Washington. The investigating authorities found nothing to explain why Smith ended his life.

Attack in Senate.
But the final Senate onslaught was a sequel to two other Senate inquiries—the Veterans' Bureau investigation disclosing irregularities for which Director Farber

CRASH OF PLANE IN COUNTY LAST JANUARY LAID TO STALL

Pilot of Small Craft Was Killed When It Ran Out of Gasoline Near Lambert Field. The crash of a small airplane in Northern St. Louis County last

Jan. 5, in which the pilot, Alvin O. Kempp of Detroit, was killed, was caused by a stall while Kempp was attempting to make a forced landing when his plane ran out of gasoline, the Civil Aeronautics Board reported today.

Kempp purchased the plane in Wichita, Kan., and was flying it to Detroit. He intended to refuel at Lambert-St. Louis Field, the CAB reported, but apparently exhausted his fuel supply while trying to find the airport. He was about five miles north of Lambert Field when he crashed.

Reporting on another St. Louis accident in which a plane piloted by Orville E. Scott taxied through a fence and into an automobile at Lambert Field, last Feb. 9, the CAB attributed the accident to an impaired physical condition of Scott as a result of carbon monoxide fumes escaping from an exhaust-heater system. Scott knew the heater was not working properly, the CAB reported, and a contributing factor in the accident was "poor judgment of pilot in continuing flight operations under conditions evidencing a malfunctioning heater-exhaust unit." Scott, two passengers in the plane, and an occupant of the automobile were slightly injured.

29 Major Elevens in Country Remain Unbeaten Thus Far Billikens

Five Members of Southwest Conference Have Perfect Records

Texas Longhorns Appear to Deserve Ranking Close to Top in National Race—Severe Test for Leaders This Week—Northwestern-Michigan Outstanding Game.

By Herb Barker

Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP).—Out of the confusion of an exciting football week end, the exploits of the Southwest Conference stand out like a beacon on a stormy night.

With three weeks of the campaign now history, five of the seven members of the Southwest Conference still remain unbeaten and untied and one of them at least—the Texas Longhorns—belongs at or close to the top of an early national ranking.

Baylor, Rice, Texas A. and M. and Texas Christian likewise boast perfect records and of these, Rice Owls have just engineered the biggest upset of the young season, a stunning 10-9 defeat to Tulane's mighty Green Wave.

This sensational showing by the Texas contingent is in sharp contrast to certain other sections, notably the Pacific Coast Conference, where not one unbeaten outfit remains.

All told, 29 major schools still have perfect records. In addition to the five Southwest representatives, they are split this way: East: Navy, Army, Fordham, Temple, Villanova, Penn, Dartmouth, Columbia, Cornell, Duquesne and Rutgers.

Western Conference: Minnesota, Michigan, Northwestern and Ohio State.

Big Six: Nebraska.

Southeastern Conference: Vanderbilt, (Georgia and Mississippi have been tied but not beaten.)

Southern Conference: Duke and Clemson.

Independents: Notre Dame, Detroit and Santa Clara.

Rocky Mountain Big Seven: Utah and Colorado State.

This list is due for sharp revision this week as a study of the schedule, by sections, will show.

Texas, which has run up 108 points in trouncing Colorado, Louisiana State and Oklahoma in succession, should have no trouble in its first conference test against Arkansas, beaten 20-7 by Baylor last week.

Texas Christian, 20-14 conqueror of Indiana, in a match of undefeated elevens.

Meantime, Baylor invades Philadelphia to face Villanova's Wildcats, who barely nipped Florida 6-0.

Rice, after its surprising conquest of Tulane, moves into Baton Rouge to play Louisiana State, which showed unexpected strength in outplaying Mississippi State in a scoreless draw.

Southern Conference: Duke and Clemson.

Northwestern and Michigan battle at Evanston in the biggest duel of the week. Held to a 14-14 tie in the first period, Northwestern uncovered tremendous scoring power in a 41-14 rout of Wisconsin for its second victory.

Michigan, with Tom Kuzma leading the way, made it three in a row in a 40-0 victory over hapless Pitt. The Panthers face more trouble at Minneapolis, where they play Minnesota's Gophers, who crushed Illinois 34-6, with Bruce Smith and Bill Daley in the starring roles.

Ohio State and Purdue, Wisconsin and Iowa are other conference pairings. Indiana, beaten three times in a row, meets another tough foe in Nebraska's Cornhuskers.

Big Six champions, who topped Kansas, 30-0, Illinois plays Drake.

Missouri, which opened its Big Six campaign with a 35-0 victory over Kansas State, plays Iowa State next. Kansas State meets Oklahoma. Kansas has a tough foe in non-conference in Marquette, barely beaten, 17-7, by Michigan State.

Detroit, another independent, plays Oklahoma A. and M.

Stanford's unexpected 10-0 defeat at Oregon State left the Pacific Coast conference race wide open. Oregon State gets a week off but the others all will be active.

Washington which broke a two-game losing streak by outpointing Washington State, 23-13, tackles U. C. L. A., 14-7 victors over Montana. Washington State travels south to meet Southern California, beaten 20-6 by Oregon. Oregon's next foe is California, beaten 18-0 by Santa Clara, its second loss in succession.

Santa Clara meets Michigan State while Stanford plays San Francisco.

Were Those Bears Bearing Down!

The Chicago Bears, with recollections of their defeat last year by Jimmy Conzelmann's team, really bore down in the game with the Cardinals at Chicago yesterday, winning 53 to 7. The picture shows MARSHALL GOLDBERG of the Cards leaping into the air to throw a short pass over the center, in the second period, but the Bears batted it down. MILT POPOVICH (center, white helmet) holds off HAROLD LAHAR (12) while ALDO FORTE (23, wearing face guard) is striking at the ball.

They Don't Have Upsets In Pro Football; Giants And Bears Are Leaders

CHICAGO, Oct. 13 (AP).—Football and upsets go together like ham and eggs—except in the National Professional League. The 10-team circuit is rapidly nearing the halfway mark in the title race, but there has not been a single reversal of form in 20 games played. Upsets may yet enliven the scramble, but so far the Chicago Bears and New York Giants have managed to brush aside all opposition with comparative ease.

The Chicago Cardinals, who whipped the Bears last season, got all steamed up for Sunday's game, but it availed them nothing. The Bears, who had been leading the league in scoring, were completely outplayed by the Cardinals, who won 53 to 7.

Set Ups in Soccer Cup Title Play

St. Louis will have at least one club in the national soccer championship this season, it was learned today when Benito Fernandez, manager of the Natural Set Up Club, announced that he had filed his entry with the United States Football Association's Cup Committee.

In getting into the proper frame of mind for the coming season, the Nationals yesterday defeated the Solidarity club in an exhibition game at Carondelet Park. Harold Gunning scored two goals, one a penalty kick, and Henry Vasquez another in winning, 3 to 1. A large crowd watched the game. Both teams are members of the Municipal League, which may open its season next Sunday.

Following is the lineup of the Natural Club as it played yesterday: Goal, Manuel Muniz; fullbacks, Joe Garcia and Leo Puttin; halfbacks, Cecil Rodriguez, Joe McWilliams and Leo Lange; forwards, Art Garcia, Henry Vasquez, Harold Gunning, Eddie Duker and Emil Muniz.

Ramblers Win Over Sentinels

The Ramblers, formerly the Eighth Ward Democrats, started off on the right foot in defense of their Willis Johnson Municipal Football League title by defeating the Sentinels in the opening game of the season, 20 to 0, at Cleveland High School yesterday afternoon.

St. Louis Harmony drew a bye.

Scott Anderson and Sam Vosevich were the Ramblers' stars. Vosevich scored in the opening period after several runs by Anderson had put the ball on the Sentinels' five-yard line. In the third period, Anderson took a short pass from Vosevich and galloped 25 yards to score. The same pass combination worked in the fourth quarter and was good for 30 yards and another touchdown.

Pete Christy converted on two of his three tries.

Officials of the league will meet tonight at the South Side Y. M. C. A. sponsors of the league, to decide on admitting a fourth team to the league. Five teams participated in the league last season.

Miracle Men Come and Go.

NAPOLION today, St. Helena tomorrow. . . . It's that way in the world of sports, too.

Stake Clark Shaughnessy, coach of Stanford University, for example. . . . A miracle man last year, a dud this season—that is, if you want to take his team's defeat Saturday by Oregon State as a criterion.

The downfall may keep the Stanford Indians out of the Rose Bowl next New Year's day. . . . In a way it deflates the "T" formation, supposed to be the key to Shaughnessy's 1940 success.

But Saturday's defeat can't really detract from the merit of this coach, who took a tail-end football team, converted it into a winner, drove it through 12 victories and achieved a final climactic Rose Bowl success.

In this world of football today a repeater in a national championship field is surely a rare bird. . . . In the meantime, it appears at this writing that Minnesota, which smashed the Illinois (and perhaps Coach Zuppke's hope of retaining his job at Illinois next year), will be the year's No. 1 team.

Duke and Gophers Now Head the List.

DUKE UNIVERSITY shares with Minnesota the top of the list of national championship candidates. . . . Stanford, which enjoyed equal rating with the two varsities mentioned, prior to last week's battles, drops down a peg.

Tulane slips back after its defeat by the Rice lightweights, although its margin of defeat was only one point, 10-9.

Rice was very badly out-weighted—18 pounds per man—by its New Orleans rival and victory definitely quenches any Rose Bowl hopes of the Green Wave. . . . A clean slate for the remainder of the campaign might still mean the Sugar Bowl date for the Crescent City powerhouse.

At this time both of the St.

This should be the battle of the week by a wide margin. . . . DUNCAN F. OBER, reserve center of the pro Detroit Lions, has been signed by Uncle Sam for his Army eleven. . . . ALONZO A. STAGG, venerable "Old Man" of football, declares that Texas football is just about the best in the nation. . . . COURTNEY DRISCOLL of Marshall College.

West Virginia, is the footballing leader to date with 45 points. BOB LEONARD, Navy's kicking expert, has converted 13 tries for extra points in the three games team has played. . . . FRED COCHRANE, welterweight champion, has declined to go through with his non-title bout with Robinson, Oct. 31, unless his manager, Willie Gilzenberg, is released by the New York Boxing Commission. . . . BIFF JONES, Nebraska coach, has vastly improved the Cornhuskers' pass-defense. Against Kansas, the Huskers intercepted five passes and ran back for 104 yards. . . . Red MAURICE WADE, Missouri's leader in the Big Six scoring leader with 18 points. BILL DECORREYON, Northwestern, has come into his own this season and is mainly responsible for that wide grin Coach Waldorf is wearing.

BOB MONTGOMERY, back after his one-round kayo of Dave Day in Chicago, is hunting for a match with either Lew Jenkins or Sammy Angott, with the lightweight title at stake. . . . J. M. C. BERNON, a Georgia prep school coach, is credited with a new mark for the longest football run. He ran 109 yards for a touchdown in a recent game, bettering the old record of 109 yards.

Marching parties, under the leadership of Coaches Butch Loeb and Duke Duford, will depart to search for any silver linings in the football clouds which threaten to envelop the Washington U. Billikens this week end. In truth, the outlook for both is even less brilliant than it was that day in Mud when the mighty Casey turned three futile swings and turned home town into a Brooklyn.

There are a sound reason for the three teams that played four games in Saturday games, the Greys oppose Creighton University and the Billikens have nothing more to do than meet the U. Hurricans at Tulsa.

Creighton won three games, among the Billikens who lost 18 to 8. Creighton's only defeat, that by Tulsa, was Saturday, by a 19-7 margin, and the losers had plenty of power to get the winners' backs.

For a look at Tulsa. The victory over Creighton was Tulsa's second game. In the Hurricanes' second game, Texas Christian just managed a 6-0 decision and the Southwest Conference season followed with a 9-0 defeat of Arkansas last week end, a 20-14 triumph over Indiana.

Comparative Scores. Using the none-too-reliable comparative scores method, Tulsa appears to be 12 points better than the Greys, who are 10 points better than the Billikens. Which might seem to indicate a 21-point superiority for Tulsa over St. Louis.

There's no way to compare the records of Creighton and Washington this season except by showing that, scoring in every one of its games, Creighton has totaled 104 points, an average of 17.5 per game, while the Bears, in two games, have scored 18, for an average of nine. On defense, Creighton has allowed the opposition 54 points, an average of 13.5, while the Bears' opponents have averaged 30 points.

And, Coach Duford at St. Louis would have to strain his eyes looking for hope-rays from the difference in the treatment of Creighton by Tulsa and of St. Louis by Creighton already has been pointed out. In two games, Tulsa has scored 19 points to 13 in the opposition; the Billikens, in their three, counted 27 as against 31 for the enemy.

Added to these figures, the fact that Tulsa has a team of great extent, while the Billikens have a great extent of sophomores, and a reason for that added furrow in Coach Duford's brow is apparent.

Bears Lack Reserves. Against the Oklahoma Aggies, Washington's fighting squad ran to form. While Loeb's first made it many points, the action and fresh. . . . It was a team of seconds, which carried on the part of the Huskers after the victory was on ice, early in the fray.

Missouri undoubtedly has the powerful squad. . . . but isn't any question that it will meet an equally powerful team when Nebraska takes the field against the Tigers. . . . At that we may be dismissing Oklahoma too lightly.

Dana Bible's Texas University team was rated among the country's leaders in early forecasts. He may really have something more than ordinary. . . . But that 40-7 score seems to indicate weakness on the part of the Sooners as much as strength of the Longhorns.

All will be played against Creighton Saturday. As for the Billikens, after a rather futile first half against Drake, they really got going in the second and displayed a power on attack and a tightness on defense which was encouraging alike to the coaches and the followers of the school's football fortunes.

It will be Tulsa's experience and speed against the St. Louis doggedness and Weber's passing. It will be Creighton's speedy backs—once they're past the line of scrimmage, away—against Washington's gameness and Bud Schwenk. Any silver linings?

RED ARMIES OF CENTER SEEM TO BE STILL INTACT, SAYS ELIOT

have nothing to oppose at present. Unless they can get naval command of the Black Sea they cannot supply their armies much beyond the Don, nor could they bring out the oil of the Caucasus even if they got there and captured the wells, presuming that Russian sabotage is as thorough on the pipeline as it has been in other instances so far.

The Germans cannot put pressure on Turkey unless they are prepared to back it up with something more than the Bulgarian army; indeed failure to accomplish decisive results with their present much-heralded attack in central Russia seems likely to stiffen Turkish resistance to German demands.

Pressure of Rebellion

Still another reason lies in the rising tide of rebellion in conquered Europe. Every German failure in Russia increases this unrest, every demand of the Russian front on the forces of occupation gives it wider opportunities. The Germans would certainly like very much to have a comparatively free hand to remove this danger to their rear areas.

Yet another reason is to be found in the ever-present possibility of British offensive action somewhere in Western Europe, possibly in Norway. Despite all denials, this is a possibility which the Germans cannot afford to ignore. A successful recovery of Norway would deal a blow to German prestige from which it might never recover, quite aside from the serious military consequences. An invasion of Britain is also to be considered, entailing a new campaign in France.

The next few days should, therefore, be of very great importance in determining the future course of this war.

What Nazis Would Gain. Yet a respite, a cessation of arms while dissidents in conquered Europe are stamped out, while trade is resumed with foreign lands, while new connections in Latin America are established, while empty oil tanks are refilled, while the German people can get a few square meals containing some of the luxury foods they have missed for so long, while broken divisions and air fleets can be reconstituted and re-equipped; this would be an immense advantage to Germany if it could be had now. It cannot be had from the British as long as the hope which embattled Russia represents to them is still in being, nor can it be had when American aid flows into their island in increasing volume. But in the interval between a Russian collapse and the appearance of large-scale American help, there might be a moment of discouragement which would give the Germans an opportunity to suggest peace. At least, there seem to be evidences that German thoughts are turning in that direction, however illusory such hopes may prove in the event.

From every point of view, therefore, the Germans must ardently desire to make good Hitler's boast that the Russian war is over and that the "Red Empire" is in its death throes, or at least to do enough to support such a claim in the eyes of the watching world, while retaining some degree of military freedom of action elsewhere. If they can do this, they have gained at least another chance to win. If they cannot attain at least this standard of accomplishment, their Russian gamble has turned out badly for the Nazi cause. The next few days should, therefore, be of very great importance in determining the future course of this war.

MAYOR REPORTS GAINS IN 10-POINT CITY PLAN

Aids Also Tell of Progress in Monthly Accounting by Radio.

Progress in carrying out the 10-point plan of action of the new city administration was described by Mayor William Dee Becker in a radio address last night, one of the monthly reports on the city's business.

Accomplishments, he said, included elimination of the cigarette tax, elimination of levies on pay of city employees for political purposes, abolishment of the post of city lobbyist, adoption of the civil service system and the charter amendment for election of Aldermen by wards through approval of the voters, elimination of politics in administration of liquor laws and strict enforcement of traffic ordinances.

The Mayor discussed also measures being taken for redistricting of the city to make ward populations more nearly equal, for improvement of mass transportation and for advancement of the smoke control program.

"There cannot be, and there will not be, any relaxing of the smoke law this winter," Mayor Becker declared. "No matter what may stand in the way, be it apathy or active opposition, St. Louis skies must and will be kept free of the pall of St. Louis air free of the smog."

The Mayor said the public could help the anti-smoke campaign by ordering winter supplies of coal promptly and by reporting to the Division of Weights and Measures, City Hall, presence of any truck from which it appeared that illegal coal was being peddled.

Commissioner of Weights and Measures Charles J. Elsenring, an important figure in enforcement of the anti-smoke law, who was taken by two coal peddlers Oct. 1, gave a report through a recording made at his bedside. He said his department was carrying out its job as usual and that he hoped to be active again soon.

Other city officials who made reports included Director of Public Utilities Max H. Doyle, Jail Warden E. E. Hensley, Director of Fire Chief Joseph W. Morgan, Excise Commissioner Arthur H. Bader, Director of Streets and Sewers Arthur C. Weigert and Police Judges Joseph E. Catanzaro and George J. Grellner.

Interpreting The War News
some of the British press today advises the United States in forcible language to get into the war and help the Russians. Meantime other British newspapers, perhaps figuring that certain lectures should begin at home, continued to urge their Government to give the Soviets immediate help with military action of some sort.
Actually, the Royal Air Force lashed out over the week end with some of the heaviest raids of the war against the continent. The action is said to have been widespread, extending as far afield as Bavaria and to have involved more than 300 planes. The purpose of this onslaught was to help the Russians by crippling German industry.

4 ST. LOUISANS ACCEPTED FOR CANADIAN AIR FORCE
The Canadian Aviation Bureau has announced today that four St. Louisans have been accepted by Canadian authorities for service in Canadian-British air forces. They are:
William E. Mills, 21 years old, 419 North Eleventh street, East St. Louis; George T. Knight, 23, 1907 Alice avenue; Ray A. Johnson, 22, 5386 Pershing avenue, salesman, and Frederick N. Mills, 26, 5352 Englewood drive, flying instructor.

GREEN PROMISES POSTAL MEN AID IN GETTING INCREASE

Says AFL Will Use Influence in Congress but Warns That Civil Service Workers Must Not Strike

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 13 (AP).—Twelve resolutions in support of pay increases for public employees were before the American Federation of Labor convention today, along with President William Green's admonition there "can never be" a strike against the Government by civil service workers.

The annual convention entered its second and final week with the main job of transacting business, expressing opinion and making recommendations still before the 600 delegates.

Two of the resolutions, due to start coming out of committee today, call for a flat pay rise or bonus of $240 yearly for Government workers to meet increased living costs for the duration of the emergency.

President Green addressed a week-end meeting of a local of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks which was billed as the opening of a country-wide drive for the first increase for postal clerks since 1925.

"I don't think any civil service employee who understands the priceless heritage of liberty, freedom and justice that is ours," Green said, "ever will belong to an organization which would strike against the Government."

Green assured the postal employees, however, that the AFL has a "mighty power" in support of the wage demands—political power of 5,000,000 members. Congressmen "understand the language we speak," he asserted.

"You ought to have had that pay raise a long time ago. We will never fail you. Any member of Congress who votes against the bill for civil service pay raises will be classed as an enemy of the American Federation of Labor."

Several of the major issues to come before the convention, which is expected to end Thursday, will be in committee reports on the executive council's annual report. They include: A recommendation of aid to Russia as an advisable military move, while denouncing Communist criticism of Thurman Arnold of the Department of Justice for attempting to apply anti-trust laws to union activities, and a denunciation of racketeering within the labor movement.

of union politics which, a cryptic remark of John Carmody suggests, was in part due to a possibility of widespread strikes by AFL in other parts of the country against the defense housing effort.

Hillman has announced and so has Leon Henderson that Hillman is the boss of labor policy of this Government and what he says sticks. Very apparently that is no exaggeration. But who is Hillman? He is the head of one of the most powerful labor unions in this country, from which he even now draws pay and is a leader of one wing of the CIO itself.

That's all right. He is one of the ablest, shrewdest and most intelligent of labor leaders. But the head of such a union and a leading spirit in such a federation of unions has no business in charge of labor policy in the United States. That job is a matter of judgment. Four conflicting interests are constantly involved—that of Government, that of the civilian population, that of labor and that of management. Hillman can't be an impartial judge. He is dealing with himself.

Need for Inquiry.

As has frequently been pointed out here and as is becoming more apparent daily the unplanned price rise effort has been botched and bungled and complaints of sufferers throughout the country are rising like a tide.

How long can this kind of confusion, high-handed fumbling, deadly error and smirking hypocrisy go on in this democracy without somebody being called to account by the people through their Congress? I don't know, but it is a cinch it can't go on forever.

It is not a political question at all. It is not a question of aiding or blocking our war effort. It is a question of getting some efficiency into that effort and it is not political, because every patriotic citizen is for that.

The known facts are so few and so closely guarded as "military secrets" that it is only these more glaring errors that can't be hid. The need is for searching and constant congressional investigation.

STRIKE CONFERENCE CALLED AT MADISON CAR PLANT

Executive Says Walkout Violates Agreement; Union Aid Asserts Fact Was Misapplied.

Efforts to settle a strike of 800 employees of the American Car & Foundry Co. plant at Madison will be made today at a conference between Thomas A. Dooley, the company's district manager, and officials of the AFL Brotherhood of Railway Carmen.

Dooley told a Post-Dispatch reporter the strike had been called suddenly in violation of a contract which terminated a five-day strike Aug. 2. Although the agreement provided that disputes be submitted to a grievance committee of three union and three company representatives and referred to an outside referee, if they failed to reach an agreement, he said, the strike was his first intimation that any dispute existed.

George O'Brien, international vice-president of the union, said the walkout was called last Friday in protest against "misapplication" of the Aug. 2 agreement.

Several hundred men picketed today at the gates of the plant, which has large orders of freight cars. AFL machinists and electricians, who were not affected by the strike call, were at work in the plant, but other production was suspended.

ENVOY TO ROME BACK IN U.S.; ITALIANS COURTEOUS, HE SAYS

William Phillips' Visit Will Be Brief; to Confer With Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP).—William Phillips, United States Ambassador to Italy, arrived from Lisbon today on the Yankee Clipper for his first visit home in a year.

Commenting informally about conditions in Italy, the Ambassador said that "Ever since I have been over there, and especially during the last year, I have met with nothing but the utmost courtesy from the Italian Government and the Italian people."

"I walk all over the streets of Rome almost every day, and there never has been an incident of any kind to indicate any feeling against my person," he said. "A similar experience is enjoyed by all the other members of the American Embassy."

Phillips said his leave would be brief. He will confer with President Roosevelt and attend the marriage of his son, William Jr., Oct. 25 in Connecticut.

60,000 GALLONS OF OIL BURNED IN MICHIGAN FIRE

Lumber and Coal Yards Ignited in $50,000 Blaze at Lansing

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 13 (AP).—Fire exploded more than 60,000 gallons of oil and naphtha in nine storage tanks today and, spreading to an adjoining lumber yard, caused damage estimated at $50,000.

The fire started in the Lyons Oil Co. plant and within a few minutes burning fuel had ignited yards of the Duncan Lumber Co., which surrounds the oil plant on three sides.

Witnesses said a "lake" of burning oil spread the blaze to the lumber piles. In addition, coal in another yard was set afire and two automobiles parked nearby caught fire and were destroyed. Two hours after the blaze started firemen apparently had checked its spread.

7 KILLED IN CRASH OF ARMY BOMBER IN MOUNTAIN PASS

13-Ton Plane Flew Into Fog and Drizzle After Sunny Skies Over Palm Springs.

MARCH FIELD, Cal., Oct. 13 (AP).—An army B-23 bomber, passing abruptly from desert sunshine into fog and rain, crashed on a mountain pass yesterday. Apparently seven men were killed. Darkness descended so soon after the accident that the bodies, strewn among wreckage over a distance of 300 yards, could not all be found and identified. Five bodies were discernible, however, and there was no reason to believe two other men believed on board had escaped.

The 13-ton, two-motored Douglas-built ship, only heavy plane attached to the Ninth Pursuit Wing at March Field, was returning from a flight to Albuquerque, N. M.

A few minutes after leaving the bright sunshine over Palm Springs it crashed with explosive force in a hay field on San Geronimo Pass, in the San Bernardino Mountains, three miles from Beaumont and only a few miles east of its goal.

Visibility, in the drizzle and heavy fog, was extremely low. The plane gouged out a hole 75 feet long and five feet deep. Witnesses said it seemed to have bounced and exploded in air, because the wreckage apparently had "rained down."

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Padrigio, who telephoned the first word of the crash, said the plane cruised low over their home. Suddenly its motors cut off, they said, and they saw it dip as if to land. It disappeared, and a moment later there was a terrific explosion.

Two men working in a field a mile from the scene, also reported seeing the plane. "It was ducking in and out of clouds about 500 feet up," said one of them. "Its engines were running smoothly. Then we heard a loud explosion."

Tentatively identified among the dead were three lieutenants—J. E. Overstreet, Fourth Interceptor Command, and J. S. Park, Fourth Air Force, both of Riverside, and J. W. Templeton, Thirty-second Air Base Group, of Wichita, Kan.

The air base at Albuquerque said these enlisted men also were aboard when the plane left there.

19 SURVIVORS OF THREE SHIPS SUNK IN CONVOY REACH EIRE

Men Make 1000-Mile Voyage in Open Boat; Three Companions Died of Exposure.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13 (AP).—Nineteen survivors of three ships torpedoed while in convoy landed on the coast of County Galway yesterday after a 1000-mile voyage in an open boat.

The men had lived on one biscuit a day each for 15 days. Three of the 22 originally in the boat died of exposure and were buried at sea.

NEW MOTH-PROOFING PROCESS

Chemical Treatment for Wool Also Strengthens Fabric.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Science held out hope to the housewife and others today of making woolen articles safe from moths and heavy-handed laundresses. The Bureau of Standards and Textile Foundation announced discovery of a chemical treatment which shows promise of making wool less edible for moths, less sensitive to alkaline factors in soap, and less likely to shrink.

Industrial tests will be given the process before a final decision on its worth.

Time Capsule

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. WHEN the cares of the world get you down and you feel like Gainsborough's original Blue Boy, let me recommend a trip to New York's Flushing Meadow and a quiet contemplation of the shaft that marks the site of the time capsule.

Sunk in the earth beneath the shaft, in a sort of stainless steel overcoat that will defy time for at least 5000 years, is a record of our present day civilization. There are books and plays and newspapers and phonograph records and speeches and no end of things to enlighten the citizens of 5000 years from now on how we in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and way points lived in what then will be antiquity. There is even a code in the capsule to help the finders interpret the English language. Those who profess to know about such things say that the chances are the men and women of that day will have just as much difficulty reading English as we of today have making sense out of those childish scrawlings of the cavern.

WHAT A COMFORTING thought that is! How soothing it is to know that time heals all wounds and that there will come a day when people will wonder how on earth we of the year 1941 ever got so hot and bothered over the petty troubles that beset us. It is so comforting that at least once a week I get in my car and drive to the time capsule shaft. I take a picnic lunch and a camp chair and settle down comfortably beside it. For your guidance this is the lunch I take. It is wholesome but inexpensive. Two bananas, one of which is always a little over ripe and one a bit green. Two deviled eggs, wrapped in tissue paper, preferably tissue paper from a shoe box, as shoebox tissue paper is always partly absorbed by the eggs, and makes them delightfully chewy. A glass or two of lemonade in a leaky thermos complete the lunch.

THE FIRST THING I think about when I fasten my gaze on the time capsule is Hitler. It makes a fellow feel good all over to know that there will come a time when the mad house painter will be just a name on a yellowed paper; a name that strikes no more terror than that of Attila does today. It makes me happy to know that when the capsule is unearthed (and wouldn't you like to be around to see what the folks dig it up look like?) Hitler will have been good and dead for centuries. My mind moves from Hitler to taxes. Sure they are tough, and enough to make a man wonder if he shouldn't quit the business he is in and turn to counterfeiting in order to face next March 15 with a light heart and enough money in the bank to settle up with Uncle Sam.

I PICTURE THAT DAY when some expedition stumbles across the time capsule. "Wottinell is this?" the leader of the expedition will say in a strange tongue. Out will come the junk we of today so carefully laid away. The papers of the day will carry stories of the discovery, probably on page two, and the historians will try to recall who Roosevelt, Mussolini, Tolstoy, Stalin and the champion wrestlers were. There will be learned discussions on who "the bums" were, and it will probably be agreed that "the bums" were a conquering horde that finally stopped the Nazis. Let's make a date to meet there in the Flushing Meadow next Wednesday around 4 in the afternoon and be sure to bring your own lunch.

CASE RECORDS

By Dr. George W. Crane

CASE U-102: Harry J., aged 23, is a senior dental student. "My professors tell us that if we do the best type of dentistry in the world, we shall never have to worry about our success in actual practice." He spoke thoughtfully. "But I have noticed that some of the most brilliant students are often unable to earn an adequate living when they get out into practice. One such man of my acquaintance has finally given up his own office and taken a salaried job with a laboratory because he couldn't earn a living for himself and family. He had been out of school for 10 years, too, so he had had plenty of time to demonstrate his superlative ability. Dr. Crane, if topnotch scientific skill in dentistry isn't enough, then what else is necessary?"

DIAGNOSIS: With true devotion to scientific perfection, many of our medical and dental professors urge their students to forget mundane things like money, since they cite the Emersonian story about the manufacturer of the best mousetrap in the world who could hide away in the middle of the forest, but still be stampeded by mobs of patrons. That story of the mousetrap, however, is only half true in this high-speed modern age. I do not wish to detract one iota from the emphasis placed on manufacturing superlative goods or services. But after such things are ready for consumption, they still must be sold. And even our most brilliant dentists or physicians will almost starve unless they learn how to verbalize their services.

SOME TIME AGO when I addressed the Brooklyn Dental Society, I learned that 200 dentists were then on relief in that city and so were an even greater number of physicians. These men were able to practice a high grade of dentistry or medicine. And plenty of people in Brooklyn needed more of those services and had the money to pay for them. When you have worthwhile goods on the shelves, and the public has the need for such goods, coupled with the money to buy them, if the goods still don't move, it means they are not priced right, or else they are not being merchandised properly. The latter explains the Brooklyn situation and its counterpart all over the land. Merchandising involves language, for the idea is always father to the act or deed. And ideas are usually verbal. They involve words. To deal successfully with people, therefore, you must tell 'em before you can sell 'em.

IN THIS COUNTRY we are constantly being pushed upon, one or the other horns of the "either or" dilemma. Harry's dental professors intimate that you must either be a devotee of pure science or you are a quack. It is high time that we trained our people to resist this strategem, and to steer down the middle of the road. In dentistry, it is entirely possible for a man to be an ethical scientist and still have enough "horse sense" to realize the value of advertising as the chief instrument today of adult education.

Sallee Forth-the La Gatta Girl

Story by
Borden Chase

CHAPTER 25.

JOHNNY RIGHT was in town. He'd arrived on the morning train from North Bend, bubbling with excitement. Naturally he had a thousand things to tell Sallee Forth: news from home, messages from Sallee's family, advice from her friends, plans for the future... so many things to say!

At first there had been the business of finding him a furnished room. Johnny had plenty of enthusiasm, but he was rather short on cash. Obviously, he couldn't stop at the swank hotel where the Beauty Pageant contestants were registered. And he was only going to be in town a few days. Just a place to hang his hat—any old room would do, he claimed. But Sallee didn't want him to live in "any old room"... a quick glance through the newspaper, and before the morning was gone she found the right place.

Sallee wanted to spend every minute of the afternoon with him, but that was out. Definitely. The pageant officials had booked Sallee and the remaining contestants for a string of personal appearances. But there was the evening. And the moment she was free Sallee hurried to meet Johnny.

What were his plans? Why had he come East? What did he intend to do?

Well, for the moment, Johnny wanted nothing better than the opportunity to look at Sallee Forth and tell her how very beautiful she was. As for himself—he'd been offered a job with an advertising firm in Chicago. Art work. All those long hours in art school had been worth while, and now he was definitely started upon a career. How much would he get? Oh, very little to start, but that was unimportant. Soon the money would come rolling in, and soon...

Each word was music and Sallee couldn't hear enough. For a time she forgot the Beauty Pageant; forgot her troubles; even forgot she had half-agreed to meet Frank Prospect this evening. They passed once, just as Sallee was saying: "Oh, Johnny, it's so up-on-a-cloud to see you again!"

Continued Tomorrow.

The Meekie Racket

By Elsie Robinson

ALL forms of egotism—including my own—are a pain in the neck to the unfortunate bystander. But as a guaranteed, get-getting graft, nothing can match the Meekie racket, either in pestiness or profit. Meaning, of course, those mealy-mouthed mumbler who specialize in belittling themselves.

After one experience with a Meekie, you can usually detect the breed at a glance. Meekies invariably lurk in the darkest corners at parties, ensconced in a heavy silence which is just about as easy to ignore as a red-hot dose of hives. There may be 50 people at that party, all whooping hilariously, but the concentrated gloom of one Meekie will offset their joint rumpus. Like Ye Ancient Mariner, said Meekie fixes you with his baleful glare, and henceforth you're a goner.

Having gloomed onto you, all Meekies pull an identical line. Without wasting another second, they start telling you what Terrible Failures they are, how they make a Mess of Everything. How Nobody Understands them, and Everyone Absolutely Despises them until Life has become so Ghastly they Wish They Were Dead.

But, of course, if they had Someone Like You to advise them, some strong, clever, resourceful, understanding, sympathetic person like you—why, everything would be Different. Which tribute naturally makes you feel at least 10 points smarter than God Himself. So, before you

Fat People Who Deceive Themselves

By
Logan Clendening, M. D.

I AM in receipt of a very pathetic letter from a reader. It seems I have hurt her feelings by saying that "fat people are lazy." A dear friend of hers "who happens to be what is termed fat" said her doctor had attributed her excess weight to organic trouble, as she certainly is not lazy and eats very lightly.

Well, I don't want to hurt anybody's feelings, but the fact remains that people who talk like that are kidding themselves. They may not appear lazy because they move around in quite lively fashion at times. But most of the 24 hours they are very, very quiet. They have to be, because it takes real courage and effort to move all those pounds around.

Their idea that they eat lightly and do not eat as much as other people is also, faulty observation. Whether they eat as much as other people or not, they certainly eat too much for their own bodies and the amount of activity they display.

You really can't get away from the mathematical fact that fat comes from food. And if you have too much fat, it is because you have eaten too much food. The obese patient is in what the nutritionists call positive energy balance. The fundamental reliance in the treatment of all types of obesity is the "first law of thermodynamics"—that is the law of the conservation of matter.

OVERWEIGHT PEOPLE often think they eat less than others, but they are fooling themselves. They say they just peck at food, but they peck all day long or else eat the most concentrating nourishment.

So far as thyroid disturbance is concerned, it is true that thyroid extract will burn off some fat, but most of the endocrinologists I know use this sparingly. They burn off some at the beginning of treatment to give things a start and then rely on the diet. As far as organic trouble is concerned, I know of no organic trouble in an overweight person that is not helped and improved by a reduction in weight.

But if an overweight person really thinks, in spite of the evidence, that he or she eats less than the normal person, let us put it to the proof. Put them on our current reducing diet, let them take just the amounts specified, no more, and not any extras, no bites in between meals, no cocktails or ale or beer to brace up on, no candy, and no glass of milk and cream at bedtime, and see how they come out.

Today's Reducing Diet.

Breakfast: Juice two oranges (Vitamin C), one slice toast, half teaspoon butter, one cup coffee, one lump sugar, two tablespoons cream (Vitamin A).

Lunch: Average helping cottage cheese with sour cream. (Vitamin G for general well-being). One slice toast, one teaspoon butter, baked apple (Roughage), glass whole milk (Calcium).

Supper: One cup consommé. Average helping roast veal or lean roast beef (Protein), large helping cauliflower and of string beans. Calcium-bone-builders, lettuce and tomato salad, one dessert spoon French dressing, two small salt crackers, fruit cup (melon balls and berries), cup black coffee.

Questions and Answers.

Reader: "Must a child have the mumps and whooping cough? Can they be inoculated to prevent these diseases?"

Answer: For whooping cough, a preventive vaccine, developed by Sauer, has been used with considerable success. I certainly would recommend it for anyone who feels inclined to use it, although I do not believe it is successful enough to make its use compulsory in schools. For mumps no preventive has been successful.

D. F.: "Is coffee good for the heart or not?"

Answer: Coffee increases the blood flow through various organs. Thus, it keeps you awake because it increases the blood flow through the brain, and it increases the excretion of urine because it increases the blood flow through the kidneys. It also increases the blood flow through the heart, and in people over middle age; it is therefore a good heart tonic. It does no harm to the heart.

For any one pamphlet desired send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. WHEN you want a small amount of ham, a good way of getting it is to buy a ham shank and bake it—remembering that a piece of ham requires more minutes per pound to cook done than a whole ham. The baked shank will yield some slices for sandwiches, a good deal of lean meat for dicing, and a bone for making split pea soup. Of course the larger the shank, the more meat it will have on it. A half ham, shank end, should make several meals for a family of four. The shank to which we refer, however, is the piece the butcher will have left from a ham from which he has taken several center cuts.

Ham and Egg Nests. Four hard-cooked eggs, four slices toast, one-fourth cup butter, four tablespoons flour, one cup evaporated milk, one cup water, two-thirds teaspoon salt, dash pepper, two cups ground or finely chopped cooked ham.

Separate egg yolks carefully from whites, keeping yolks whole. Press egg whites through sieve or ricer, and pile on the toast squares which are arranged on a platter. Make a depression in each mound, and fill each hollow with ham. Make a white sauce of butter, flour, milk and seasonings, and pour hot sauce over and round nests. Garnish with whole hard-cooked egg yolks and chopped parsley. Four servings.

MENUS FOR TUESDAY

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

MET a man of 38 three and a half years ago. We have been going steady ever since and really love each other. I am 37. Three months ago we became engaged, but did not tell his mother, who is 65. He was without work until four months ago. He and his mother owe me $68, which they borrowed from me. Several weeks ago we told his mother we wanted to get married and she went into a storm and said she'd kill herself, that her son cannot marry till she dies. She won't let me come to their house any more, and often we even have to meet on corners, as he's not supposed to come to see me. He is very worried, for I was so good to his mother several times when she was sick, staying with her and doing all the work. At that time she was glad to have me around; now it's different. He has a good job at $40 per week, and she takes all but a tiny bit of his money, and we certainly cannot get married on $10 per week. He is trying to pay me back what they borrowed, a dollar or two each day. It looks like we are never going to get married, at this rate. What can we do? SO DISCOURAGED.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

At 38, he should be able to assert himself and far that much of his out of her selfish ways. He has evidently been a very devoted son. But he has a right to a life of his own. It is up to him to break away. There is no reason why he should turn all he earns over to her. He should give her a reasonable amount for household expenses and keep the remainder toward debts incurred when he was not working, and toward his marriage. You are both well along in years and there is no point to dragging out this engagement endlessly. I must confess the situation does not sound very cheerful to me.

IN ANSWER TO "Mary M.": You should learn to dance, by all means, and if you are worried because you are a little older than the next one, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will mail you my Reducing Leaflet. Do not be any drastic dieting unless the diet is recommended by your physician—just go easy on the sodas, candy, potatoes and bread. Get your girl friends, or some of the boys, to teach you to dance. The Post-Dispatch leaflet, "How to do the Newest Dance Steps," will be a big help to you. Send 10 cents, and a stamped, 3-cent, self-addressed envelope to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Home Service Bureau, 635 Sixth Avenue, New York City. Unless you have learned to dance by that time, skip the dance for the soldiers and go to the next one. By that time you will have learned to be fairly proficient if you go to it in earnest.

Dear Martha Carr:
I AM ENCLOSING an emblem like the one my friend, a private in the U. S. Army, sent me. Will it be all right for me to wear this emblem on my sweater or coat?
MRS. M. K. B.

I am told that so far there has been no ruling against wearing these emblems.

Dear Martha Carr:
HOW CAN I GET your leaflet about recipes for the soldiers?

If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I will mail you my leaflet, "Boys in Camp," which gives recipes for cakes and candies, and also a list of suggested gifts.

IN ANSWER TO "R. W. A.": To bleach the hair on your upper lip, try the following: To three tablespoons of peroxide, add six drops of ammonia, and apply. If results are not satisfactory, add the same mixture sufficient powdered pumice to make a paste. Spread this on your upper lip and allow to dry. Then remove with cold water. This paste holds more of the solution than it is possible to apply merely by patting on the solution. As to the weight, if you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I will mail you my Weight Leaflet, as I no longer give weights in the column.

IN ANSWER TO "S. S.": Try the firms listed under "Music Arrangers and Music Printers" in the classified section of the phone book.

IN ANSWER TO "L. V. K. H.": For the work you want to do you must first be a graduate nurse. However, you can knit and perhaps do other helpful things. Call the Red Cross at Franklin 4980.

HE young owner of a new house tells me that she is sure I would have rated her table manners "good" until lately! "Just now," she explains, "for the life of me I can't drink my breakfast coffee without letting a drop form between my lips, that then runs down the front of my cup when I set it down, and gradually makes a ring in the saucer. I'm sure it is a new trick I have acquired lately. My husband's saucer gets a coffee ring in it, too. He says perhaps I copy him, but I don't know how we can cure ourselves of this untidiness."

Since my reader says it is a new trick, the cause probably is the cups they use. If they are quite thick, and if, moreover, they have a ring in the rim, they will, of course, when they are filled, have a ring in the rim, that the husband as well as the wife may be completely cured.

DEAR MRS. POST: Nowadays, women travel alone a great deal, and I am wondering if it would be proper for me as a woman of 30 to go alone on a two weeks' trip through the East, stopping off for several days in New York City?

Answer: Certainly. Here in America, in fact, all over the world, a woman can go anywhere, and the propriety never would be questioned, unless it is in some way lacking in her own behavior.

TALL TALE ABOUT TALL PEOPLE

St. Louis Tip Toppers, Group of Supermen and Supergals, Are Proud of Their Superior Height
—Club Has Only 35 Members but It's Still Growing.

By Clarissa Start

THIS is a tall story about some very tall people, in fact, probably some of the tallest people in St. Louis. They're the St. Louis Tip Toppers, that club of supermen and supergals, all of them towering over six feet tall, who have banded together in common defense and defiance against people who ask them, inane, "How's the weather up there?"

Not that the Tip Toppers organized to carry chips on their extra high and broad shoulders. The primary purpose for which the four original members got together last February was a social one. They figured there must be other young people, like themselves, who'd gotten their full growth and a little surplus, and that a club of people who stood head and shoulders above the average could offer a lot in the way of fun and friendship. In their brief eight months of existence, The Tip Toppers have grown from four to 35 in number, a lively group that certainly does have a lot of fun, as we witnessed at their last party, a hay ride, which this reporter, an ineligible five-foot-five, was permitted to attend.

"The sole purpose of this club is

THREE TALL TIP
TOPPERS. LEFT TO

BATTLES, 6 FEET,

LEGARDE RICH-
TER, 6 FEET, 1/4

MEMBERS OF THE TIP TOPPERS ON A HAYRIDE.

to help tall people forget self-consciousness." Rosemary Boedeker, secretary of the Tip Toppers, told us. "The club was originated by Art Miller and he got the idea from a similar club in Los Angeles. He saw some pictures in Life Magazine, of the California club, and it happened that he knew a tall girl and she knew another girl and then they got another fellow, and the four of them held the first meeting. They ran ads in some of the neighborhood papers then, and got quite a crowd at their second meeting which was held at the recreation hall where one of the girls worked."

"Some weren't tall enough and others weren't really interested, but just came out of curiosity, but a lot of them kept on coming. We've had hay rides and wieners roasts and boat rides and picnics and bowling parties and a lot of fun since we've organized. Our only requirements are that girls be six feet tall in stocking feet and the boys six feet, four inches, and that they have a good sense of humor."

The tallest member of the club, as well as the youngest, is Jack Battles, who at 18 stands a mere six feet, nine-and-a-half inches. He might easily be mistaken for a clothed Milla statue and when a five-foot cutie, works at the Angelica Jacket Co. Lloyd Mandeville works at the Atlas Building and Material company in East St. Louis and is the only East Side member. Gayle Maies, a nurse at City Hospital, became a member of the club when some of the others saw her on a boat ride and asked her to join.

RUTH SWENSON works in a shoe factory, Evelyn Scott at the Century Electric Co., Bernice Soeker is a school teacher in Walnut Park. Mary Catherine Kunkel has her own dressmaking business, Art Kaune works at Ely-Walker Dry Goods Co., Kelton Ritter at the McQuay-Norris division of the small arms plant, Frances Smutowski at General Cable Co., Margaret McNamara for Brown Shoe Co., and Doris Hill is a dress designer for Martha Manning dresses, ironically enough, for small women. If placed end to end, they'd make a terrific totem pole. "One thing I've noticed about this club—they really eat," Dolores Tegethoff said, as we sat around the fire, roasting wieners and marshmallows after the ride.

"Food isn't the only mutual problem of Tip Toppers. The clothes problem is, of course, the chief one, and we hatched a guess that the girls probably discussed it a lot."

"I think we touch the subject pretty often," Rosemary admitted,

"especially about shoes. The first thing we ask a newcomer to the club is, 'And what size shoes do you wear?' 'I'll say they touch the subject,' Jack Battles said, but he was immediately jeered down. "We're not the only ones," one girl said. "Why, at the last meeting, I heard you and Art Miller going on with, 'What size pants do you wear?' and 'How long are your legs?' and 'What size shoes do you wear?'"

Incidentally, Jack wins all shoe-size comparisons hands down, or rather feet down. He wears size 14. "We have our worst time getting dresses long enough," Rosemary elaborated the clothes problem. "No whenever we find any extra long dresses we pass the word along. And hats—it's terrible for us when they all turn up. I finally got a flighty little thing with a feather—makes me look like I'm taking off—and then what do I do but sit next to a girl in the streetcar with the same model hat on, only it looked much better on her."

The girls got some tips on how to dress and walk when a talent scout for tall models visited a meeting recently.

"He told us," Rosemary recalled, "how to sit gracefully, how we should never cross our legs without pointing our toes to make our ankles look better. And I remember he said of one of the girls, 'She'd look much better if she wore high heels; flat heels throw her off balance. So ever since then I've worn high heels.'"

Besides food and clothes, jobs are one of the problems of the big boys and girls. Battles, for instance, had trouble at his last job at a wedding plant because his legs were too long for the machines used. Others of the masculine half of the club reported difficulty getting jobs because of their height, and Doris Hill, the designer, finds her knees knock against ordinary sewing machines, and that she has to mount her designing table on blocks.

Most of the Tip Toppers feel that the club has done their morale a lot of good, and that rather than becoming sullen and slumping and self-conscious, they've become proud of their superior height.

"I like to talk to each new member about whether or not they feel the club has benefited them," Rosemary said, "and they all tell me they feel less self-conscious about their height when they're around others their own size. I know being a member of the club has helped me correct my stooped posture."

FOR the girls, the advantages of the Tip Toppers are obvious. It's all right to be what the poets term "divinely tall and divinely fair," but being a big girl has its limitations. It's wonderful for a tall girl to have a taller man pick her up and carry her—as we observed one of them do—from wagon to fireside. At dances it's also a comfort to be with some men your own height and not have to scan the stag line for six-footers or skulk behind a potted palm.

But the advantages aren't all for the girls. It's no more fun for tall men to carry on long-distance conversations with their dancing partners than it is for the girls, and most men prefer curly heads nestled against their shoulders rather than against their ribs.

The Tip Toppers claim to have sponsored one romance as two members are now in the steady-going class, we were told. "He hasn't proposed yet," some of the girls said, "but we've got the wedding all planned from bridesmaids to pictures. The couple in question may not know about it, but we think they ought to do anything for the glory of the club."

While this happy ending isn't guaranteed to all Tip Toppers, the present members hope to share more of this fun with more tall people. Interested six-footers can phone any of four members, Jack Battles at Grand 8319, Rosemary Boedeker at Central 1695, Doris Hill at Hilland 7063, or Dolores Tegethoff, Flanders 6401. The present goal of the club is to surpass the membership of the Los Angeles club. Their members number 150, but as the St. Louis Tip Toppers like to point out modestly, "We're still growing."

According to the U. S. Office of Education, the school enrollment for 1941-42 is 31,566,000.

$46,854 IN SAFE BOX IN NAME OF PRESIDENT HILL OF HOD CARRIERS

$30,000 in Cash and Rest in Personal Checks of Members—Two Deposits Have $77,000 Less Than Month Ago.

TWO SEEK TO PUT $23,697 IN ACCOUNT

But Are Allowed Only to Use Segregated Ledger—Sum Almost Exactly Half of Money Which Disappeared.

A total of $46,854 in cash and checks was found today in the safe deposit box at the Lindell Trust Co. rented by Edward Hill, president of Local 42 of the Hod Carriers' and Common Laborers' Union.

The box was one of four at the bank rented by the union and its officers which were opened as another step in Acting Circuit Attorney Henry G. Morris' investigation into the union's affairs.

About $30,000 of the money in Hill's box was in cash, the remainder in personal checks from union members.

Two of the boxes under examination, Morris said, are known to contain a total of $77,000 less than they did about a month ago.

One of these is a box rented in the union's name which, Morris was informed, contained between $50,000 and $60,000 last month, but had only $20,000 when it was inspected by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation early in October.

The other box of which cash is missing is one rented by Orville Golden, secretary of the union, who has admitted taking $8000 out of the box and said he split it among himself and three other officers of the union, and who has told a story that two fake Federal agents took the remaining $41,000 on the pretense of inspecting the union's affairs.

The fourth box examined today is one which was also rented in the union's name and which, Morris said, at one time also contained about $50,000. He said he had no information on whether this amount still was or was not intact.

Hill and Business Agents Paul Hulahan and Earl Jenkins, the three officers with whom Golden said he split the $8000, were present for the opening of the safe deposit boxes. Also there was Theodore Nischwitz, international representative who has taken over the local's affairs.

Detectives Present. Detectives Curtis Brostrom and Robert Heckel, who have been aiding Morris in the inquiry, were there as the Circuit Attorney's representatives.

Today's act, aimed to get at one of the principal depositories of the union's funds, followed yesterday's unsuccessful effort by Hill and Hulahan to deposit $23,697 in the union's checking account at the Telegraphers National Bank.

The account had a balance of $67,000 last June 1 and Morris had found no canceled checks or stubs among the union records to indicate any withdrawals since that time. He issued a subpoena freezing the account as of last Saturday morning, additional deposits of $2421 made Saturday have been put in the segregated account, he said, increasing it to $26,118.

Coincidence Noted. Morris called reporters' attention to the coincidence that the money deposited by Hill and Hulahan totals almost exactly half of the $47,000 which disappeared from Golden's safe deposit box.

Hill and Hulahan each appeared at Telegraphers Bank yesterday carrying separate packages of money. Hill had $11,888 in four cigar boxes and a brown envelope. Hulahan had $11,822 in a little black bag.

Hill said the money he took to the bank was dues and initiation fees from union members which he had collected during Golden's 25-day absence from the city last August and September.

Hulahan said the money he had for deposit had been given to him by Golden. He told a story com-
